Civil Rights Law Linked To Hospital Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government has taken broad steps to assure against any racial discrimination — "from here on out" — in private or public nonprofit hospitals accepting federal funds.

However, the new and strengthened regulations are not retroactive — and affect only hospitals which received funds since March 2 or will receive them in the future.

Opinions are being voiced — both from within and outside government circles — that a U.S. Supreme Court ruling which prompted the new action regarding institutions supported by the Hill-Burton Act may have far-reaching impact on many other hospitals.

Enacted In 1946

Some hospital authorities say it's conceivable that, aside from the Hill-Burton matter, certain private, nonprofit hospitals might fall within the purview of the new civil rights law even when they receive no financial assistance from the federal government.

The Hill-Burton program, enacted into law in 1946, is the brainchild of Sen. Lister Hill, D-Ala., and former Sen. Harold Burton, R-Ohio.

Under the program, federal grants or loans are made available to assist in constructing and equipping needed public and voluntary nonprofit hospitals and other facilities.

Since 1947, Congress has appropriated annually from $65 million to $220 million for this purpose. Appropriations are distributed to the states and territories according to a statutory formula based on population and relative per capital income.

Negroes Bring Suit

As the basis of action already taken by the federal government regarding Hill-Brown hospitals is a ruling of a U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, made last Nov. 1. The ruling was that any hospital accepting Hill-Burton construction funds must open its staff and facilities to everyone, regardless of race.

This case, now known as the "Simkins" case, involved two hospitals in Greensboro, N.C. — the Moses H. Cone Memorial Hospital and the Wesley Long Community Hospital.

A group of Negroes, including physicians, dentists and patients, brought the suit against the hospitals with the aid of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's legal defense and educational fund. The U.S. Department of justice intervened on behalf of the fund.

The majority opinion of the court said the "separate but equal" clause in the Hill-Burton law was a violation of both the 5th and 14th Amendments to the U.S. Constitution. Those amendments provide that no person shall be deprived of life, liberty or property, without due process of law.

The court also held that a hos-

Officer's Drink Cost Her $100

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — Mrs. Martha L. Cameron had a ready explanation Friday as she faced a charge of selling whisky to an undercover police officer.

"I didn't know he was a policeman," she said. "Besides, he looked like he needed a drink."

Police Court Judge Harold C. Maurice wasn't impressed. He fined her $100.

Deadline Near; Auto Industry Talks Recessed

DETROIT (AP — Despite the fact that picking of a strike target is only five days away, new contract bargaining in the auto industry was in weekend recess today.

A strike, if one comes, likely is only 10 days away.

Ford and United Auto Worker bargainers didn't even meet Friday. Chrysler and UAW negotiators met only 15 minutes, and at General Motors three hours was spent delving into general contract areas such as skilled trades and military leaves.

The tempo has been slow since bargaining began eight weeks ago on contracts to replace three-year ones expiring at midnight Aug. 31. If agreement has been reached in any area, neither the companies nor union has reported it.

But UAW President Walter P. Reuther expects to get give-and-take whirling Monday with a new triple-play strategy.

Reuther is joining negotiations for the first time since opening propaganda barrages were fired at the end of June and first of July. And he's going to visit all three bargaining tables in a single day.

He goes to General Motors in the morning, to Ford in the afternoon and to Chrysler for the first night session thus far.

Terming virtual parallel initial offers from the Big Three "inadequate," Reuther says there will be a strike unless improvement is made. The companies put their first economic packages on the table last Monday.

Reuther has summoned the UAW's international executive board to a Wednesday night meeting to pick a strike target, if the UAW deems a walkout necessary to gain what Reuther terms "worker equity" in record profits of the companies.

Both Reuther's triple-play and picking of a strike target only five days before contract expiration are new techniques. In the past the target usually has been picked as much as a week in advance, and Reuther has concentrated his endeavor there.

Only 2 Nations Now Have Ties With Havana

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP)—The Bolivian government has broken relations with Cuba, thus tightening the hemispheric boycott of Fidel Castro's regime. Only two nations, Uruguay and Mexico, still have ties with Havana.

The Bolivian break was announced Friday night and was taken under the sanctions voted against Cuba by the Organization of American States in Washington last month.

The government of President Victor Paz Estenssoro braced for possible reaction from the strong leftist elements in Bolivia. But no immediate demonstrations were reported.

Bolivia had voted against the sanctions, but a government communique announcing the break said Bolivia believed she was bound to abide by the OAS resolution.

Mexico, Uruguay and Chile were the other nations which voted against the sanctions. Chile later broke with Cuba.

Uruguay is still studying whether it should comply. Mexico has said it will cut relations with Castro only if the sanctions resolution is submitted to the World Court at the Hague and the court declares that the resolution does not violate international law.

The sanctions were voted at the request of Venezuela, which charged that the Castro regime is promoting subversion in Venezuela.

Mayor Wagner Backs Kennedy

NEW YORK (AP) — The race for U.S. senator from New York shaped up today as Democrat Robert F. Kennedy against Republican incumbent Kenneth B. Keating.

Mayor Robert F. Wagner of New York, the state's leading Democrat, endorsed Kennedy Friday.

The attorney general, 38, who lives in Virginia and votes in Massachusetts, was expected to come to New York early next week to announce his candidacy. He reportedly already has selected top campaign aides and a public relations agency.

Wagner's endorsement practically assured Kennedy of the nomination at the state Democratic convention Sept. 1. Kennedy is expected to delay his resignation as attorney general until then.

After the mayor's statement, all but one of Kennedy's announced challengers dropped out. That one, Rep. Samuel S. Stratton, an upstater from Amsterdam, has promised a floor fight. He contends Kennedy is ineligible as a non-resident.

Kennedy is expected to move to New York soon, to satisfy the constitutional requirement of residency "at the time of his election."

Big Goldwater Picture Posted In Atlantic City

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans say they're putting up a billboard with a giant picture of GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater in Atlantic City, N.J.

Democrats are pouring into the town for the opening of their national convention Monday.

A GOP spokesman said Friday the 160- by-35-foot billboard will be completed by Monday night.

Sugar Price Drop Halts Foreign Buying By Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — A State Department official says Cuba has ordered a halt in its purchases abroad, at least partly because of falling world sugar prices.

The official noted that world sugar prices have declined from 11.8 cents per pound in January — when supplies were short — to the currrent 4.3 cents. Sugar is Cuba's principal cash export crop.

Taylor Coming Home To Report On S. Viet Nam

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid reports of new troubles in South Viet Nam, the administration has announced that Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor is returning home for consultations and to report in depth to President Johnson.

But officials insisted his return from Saigon was not to be taken as an indication any crisis was afoot.

The former chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff is to arrive Aug. 30. He may testify before congressional committees.

Taylor may be steppping from one hot seat to another, for the conduct of the Vietnamese war is flaring into one of the major issues of the presidential campaign.

Taylor, the nation's top ranking military man before being assigned to Saigon, is expected to spend four days in Washington. Part of the reason for his trip, officials said, was that Taylor wanted to deal with some personal affairs.

In the background, however, were new Vietnamese military reverses in the jungle and angry Buddhist demonstrations in the streets.

The view expressed here is that now that Taylor has had six weeks to study the situation in South Viet Nam, it is important he report on the problems directly to Johnson, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

Officials said he is not expected to ask more U.S. help for the Saigon regime.

Boy, 14, Admits Killing Girl, 4

Deborah Dappen

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — The grim two-day search for Debbie Dappen ended Friday night when a reporter found her body under a porch just a block from her home. Police say a 14-year-old boy who earlier had reported finding the girl's shoe in a culvert has admitted killing her.

Police Chief James Finan of suburban Fairfax said at first George Rickey Jr. denied knowing how the four-year-old girl's body got under his porch, but broke down a few minutes after police began questioning him. Finan said the youth admitted killing the girl after she screamed when he made sexual advances.

The admission ended hours of frantic worry for Fairfax, a quiet, tree-lined town of 2,500 on the eastern edge of Cincinnati. Debbie disapppeared after lunch on Wednesday.

Hundreds of volunteers helped police search for her. Bloodhounds were brought in. Firemen drained ponds and dragged swimming pools. But there was no concrete clue to Debbie's fate until Friday when young Rickey brought one of the girl's shoes to police and said he had found it in a culvert.

Three Missing U. S. Officials Safe In Congo

WASHINGTON (AP) — The State Department was notified today that three U.S. officials missing in the Congo have been found safe and in good condition.

They are Col. William A. Dodds, 50, and Lt. Col. Donald V. Rattan, 39, counter-insurgency experts assigned to the U.S. military mission to the Congo; and Lewis R. MacFarlane, 25, of Seattle, Wash., vice consul at Bukavu.

Details were lacking.

The trio had been unreported since a wave of rebel troops swept into the eastern Congo.

Pressmen Quit Bargain Talks

DETROIT (AP) — The president of one of two craft unions striking Detroit's two daily newspapers angrily walked out of negotiations Friday, vowing no future meetings "until the publishers reconsider the situation."

The strike now is 41 days old.

Freeman Frazee, president of Pressman's Local 13, left the bargaining table seven hours after talks started, and after the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Association rejected a revised proposal, he said.

But talks continued between the association, which represents the afternoon News and morning Free Press in negotiations with the unions, and Local of the Plate and Paper Handlers Union.

State mediator Ed Phillips said a meeting with the plate and paperhandlers would resume at 10:30 a.m. Monday after a recess was called at 10:50 p.m. Friday.

Phillips declined to speculate on how bargaining was going but said "it's encouraging enough to meet again."

After Frazee broke off negotiations, the publishers accused the pressmen of "an act of bad faith" and charged that the pressmen had added "to their unreasonable and impossible demands."

Hurricane Near Puerto Rico

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Small but dangerous hurricane Cleo, packing winds up to 80 miles per hour, sped toward Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands today.

Cleo was 450 miles east southeast of San Juan early today.

Hurricane warnings were in effect for the entire Leeward Islands and gale warnings flew from Dominica, at the southern end of the Leewards, to St. Lucia. A hurricane watch continued for the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico.

"All interests in Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands should keep in touch with the latest information on this hurrricane today and tonight," the Weather Bureau added.

"Cleo is a small but dangerous hurricane and now begins to threaten the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico. On its present course and speed the center is expected to pass a short distance off the south coast of Puerto Rico early Sunday morning."

The 80-mile-per-hour winds were expected to increase gradually this morning.

No War Missiles Stored In Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is "confident that no strategic missiles are stored in Cuba," State Department Press Officer Robert J. McCloskey said Friday.

"It is well known and officials have stated publicly that short-range surface-to-surface and surface-to-air missiles are in Cuba," McCloskey said. "These pose no external security threat to any of Cuba's neighbors."

Democrats Face Delegate Fight

ATLANTIC CITY (AP — A dispute over whether an all-white delegation or a predominantly Negro one is entitled to represent Mississippi at the Democratic National Convention next week gets an airing today before the Convention Credentials Committee.

The dispute, one of the hottest facing the Democrats, could erupt into a bitter floor fight Monday night when the convention opens.

Headed by David Lawrence, the 110 - member credentials committee will hear both sides of the Mississippi dispute this afternoon.

The committee also may have to wrestle with the problem of whether Alabama's delegation is entitled to be seated since that state, the home of Gov. George C. Wallace, has made the state's electors "independend Democrats," which might conflict with convention rules governing party loyalty.

In the Mississippi case a predominantly Negro group calling itself the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party is challenging the right of the regular Democratic party to cast the state's 24 convention votes.

It is a dispute which presents the Johnson administration with something of a dilemma, since the President apparently would alienate some supporters in any solution.

President Savors Senator's Gumbo

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson returned to a favorite haunt Friday—the third-floor Capitol hideaway of Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La. Reason: Ellender's homemade gumbo.

The senator had invited Mrs. Johnson and the wives of several senators and Cabinet officers to sample his culinary specialty.

Johnson crashed the luncheon for two bowls of Ellender's gumbo, made from oysters, shrimp, crab meat, okra, celery and special seasoning.

Johnson Meets With Democratic Governors Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson meets today with most of the 34 Democratic governors and may use them as a final sounding board in selecting a vice presidential running mate.

George Reedy, White House press secretary, was asked Friday whether Johnson might announce his choice in a speech to the state executives.

"I've heard nothing to that effect, except rumors," Reedy replied.

If Johnson has made a definite selection, it was one of the best kept secrets in the city. In any event, time is running out. The party's national convention will nominate both presidential and vice presidential candidates Wednesday at Atlantic City N.J.

Most of the betting here in the vice presidential derby has been on the two Minnesota senators — Hubert H. Humphrey, assistant Senate Democratic leader, and Eugene J. McCarthy.

But others mentioned include the party's Senate leader, Mike Mansfield of Montana, Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, and Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown of California.

Reedy said he didn't know how many governors would attend the afternoon parley, which was to be followed by dinner at the White House.

Four Southern governors — George Wallace of Alabama, Orval Faubus of Arkansas, John McKeithen of Louisiana, and Paul Johnson of Mississippi — have made no secret of their intent to stay away from the White House meeting.

Johnson, in announcing plans for the session last Tuesday, said the talk would deal with federal-state relations, the impact of federal activities on state economies, and opportunities afforded the states to take advantage of new legislation.

Italian Reds Mourn Leader

ROME (AP) — Hammer and sickle banners hung at half staff today outside Communist party offices throughout Italy while the party faithful mourned their veteran leader, Palmiro Togliatti.

Togliatti, 71, died Friday in Yalta, eight days after suffering a stroke while vacationing in the Soviet Crimea.

His body was being flown back to Rome from the Soviet Union accompanied by the party's provisional chieftain, Luigi Longo, Togliatti's deputy.

Longo, 64, will hold the leadership of the West's largest Commmunist party until a national party convention is called to elect Togliatti's successor.

Longo, a stocky, peasant-born revolutionary, has the inside track. But he may face challenges from some of Italy's younger Communist leaders.

Among the top contenders are Mario Alicata, 46, director of the party organ L'Unita, and Giorgio Amendola, 56, of Naples.

Longo once had a reputation as a strong Stalinist. He reportedly favored the Chinese over the Russians until Togliatti persuaded him to come to the Kremlin's side. Alicata is rated as a moderate in the ideological dispute while Amendola favors more autonomy from Moscow.

Chicago Thieves Steal Tow Truck To Hoist $12,500

CHICAGO (AP) — The manager of a currency exchange found a tow truck parked inside his Chicago office Friday. But his 3½-ton safe was gone.

Also missing was a wall and an estimated $12,500 in cash and checks.

Police said thieves apparently broke into a nearby auto showroom and stole a tow truck, then drove it through the wall of the currency exchange.

They then used the tow truck hoist to lift the safe onto their own pickup truck.

Beatles Trapped By Seattle Mob

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — A screaming, howling mob of teen-agers, most of them girls, trapped England's Beatles in the coliseum for an hour Friday night before police could spirit the singers away in an ambulance.

The youngsters, who had screamed and stomped through two hours of mop-hair music, surged against police and sailors locked arm in arm in repeated efforts to get at Ringo Starr, George Harrison, John Lennon and Paul McCartney.

The Beatles' next performance is in Vancouver, B.C.

Traffic Officers Killed By Cars

Four persons, including two Detroit policemen, were killed on Michigan highways in the early hours of the weekend.

The Associated Press tabulation began at 6 p.m. Friday and ends at midnight Sunday.

Patrolman Thaddeus Szczesny was killed and three other officers injured Saturday in a two-car crash at a Detroit intersection.

Policeman James E. Wolframe, 23, of Detroit, was killed when he was struck by a car on the Ford Freeway. The driver, Hargery Holzman, 21, of Center Line, is being held for investigation of negligent homicide.

Weather Cancels Rocket Firing From Keweenaw

COPPPER HARBOR (AP) — Cold, rainy weather forced University of Michigan scientists to cancel Friday's scheduled firing of a third Arcas weather rocket from the Keweenaw Peninsula.

It was the second weather-caused postponement this week. The firing originally had been scheduled for Wednesday. U-M scientists said they will make another attempt next Wednesday.

Bad weather also plagued the second Arcas rocket, which was fired Aug. 14 after two previous postponements. U-M scientists reported Arcas No. 2 a succcess like the first ricket fired.

All together, five Arcas rockets are to be fired from the Keweenaw Peninsula site as U-M scientists hope to show the peninsula's value as a useful part of a nationwide weather rocket network.

Congolese Win Major Victory In 3-Day Battle

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—The Congolese army has won a major victory that may provide Premier Moise Tshombe's struggling government with a psychological boost in its fight against Communist-backed insurgents.

The government had control today of the heavily damaged northeastern city of Bukavu after a three-day battle that left at least 300 dead, including perhaps seven Europeans. Tough ex-Katangan gendarmes, airlifted in U.S. transport planes, joined Congolese troops in scattering the rebels and regaining control of the capital of Kivu Province.

In Washington, the State Department said today that three Americans reported missing were alive and well in neighboring Rwanda. Details were lacking but officials said this information had been received from the U.S. Embassy in Kigali, Rwanda.

The battle marked the army's first key military success in months after repeated rebel advances. It enabled the central government to maintain at least a toehold in the eastern Congo, where rebels control the big cities of Albertville and Stanleyville.

The rebels retreated westward Friday toward Shabunda in the face of a fierce Congolese counterattack. Col. Leonard Mulamba's 800 troops, reinforced with 150 gendarmes flown from Leopoldville, struck back Thursday night.

Two U.S.-made T28 planes equipped with machine guns and rockets pounded rebel positions. They were reportedly flown by anti-Castro Cuban exiles.

The rebel tribesmen stormed the city Wednesday and pushed the army back. Then the tide turned and the rebels fled.

U.S. officials had not given up hope for the missing Americans, Vice Consul Lewis R. MacFarlane, 25, of Seattle, Wash., and Col. William A. Dodds, 50, and Lt. Col. Donald V. Rattan, 39, of Alexandria, Va., members of the U.S. military mission to the Congo.

Little Change For Delta In Antlerless Hunt

The Michigan Conservation Commission order for an any deer hunt in all Upper Peninsula counties except Menominee County south of U. S. 2 would mean very little change in the Delta County district from last year's hunt rules.

Joseph Vogt of Escanaba, Conservation Department game biologist for the Escanaba District (Delta and Marquette counties and the west half of Alger) said that only the part of Delta County south of U. S. 2 would be added to the any deer hunt area by the new regulations. The area affected includes about 90 square miles.

In 1962 there was an any deer hunt in all of Delta County except that southwestern tip below U. S. 2. Despite very unfavorable weather, said Vogt, last year's hunt kill was the largest shince 1959. The kill was 7,200 in the district, or two deer to a section.

This total kill was exceeded only by the kills in 1958 and 1959 in all the years that records have been kept. The recent kills have been greater than in periods of greater deer plenty because of the shooting of antlerless deer since 1956.

1963 Kill High

Last year was the seventh season in which antlerless deer have been shot in the Escanaba District. The district buck kill last year was 4,300, which was exceeded only by the kill of 5,080 in 1959 in recent years.

"Statewide we have started into our second million deer killed since we started large scale antlerless deer seasons," said Vogt. Statewide the 1963 kill was the best on record except 1952, when 162,000 deer were taken. Last year's kill was 124,000."

"In Alger the proposal is to take 400 antlerless deer, about 0.8 deer a section. Last year we proposed a deer a section, so this is down a bit.

"In Delta we recommended taking about 1,600 antlerless deer or about 1.3 a section (square mile) and this is down slightly from last year's recommendation of 1.5.

"In Marquette County we want to take about 2,100 antlerless deer or 1.1 a section, which is the same as last year.

Under Quota

"Last year we took only 65 per cent of our quota. This is one of our problems. We wanted to take 4,300 and we took 2,900. We have a problem of getting enough hunters into these areas and we had several units undersubscribed for special permits to hunt antlerless deer.

"I hope it isn't true, but it may be that we have reached the limit in getting hunters up here into this wilder country.

"One of the reasons we don't get more hunters is that there is such a liberal antlerless season downstate. For example, in Region 2 they propose to take about 3½ times as many antlerless deer as we are taking in Region 1—the Upper Peninsula.

"In Region 2 in the northern Lower Peninsula they propose taking 49,000 antlerless deer, or 3.5 a section, while we proposed 15,000 or 1 a section in the U. P.

Deer Plentiful

"In June car kills were up 40 per cent in the U. P. over last year and in July they were up 12 per cent. Our deer observations in those months were up compared to last year. We believe our deer population is higher than at the same time last year. We had a good carryover in the winter because of mild weather, lack of snow and logging, especially in Delta County, the fawn production was very good. The embryo counts are up.

"Failure to take extra deer now," said Vogt "would set the stage for a big deer loss if we should have a severe winter like in 1961-62. We provide a big safety factor by taking only a deer a section to protect the breeding stock. We estimate that there are about 18 deer a section in the district. This is exceeded in District 2 (Menominee-Dickinson-Iron counties.)

"These were springtime figures before fawn production. They are not believed by many people, but if there are 16 deer a section there is only one to a 40. This is exceeded in some areas and other areas have fewer.

"Antlerless hunt permits to be available later will permit hunters to hunt only in specified units. There are 4 units in the Escanaba District."

Newspaper want ads are a big sell! Eight hundred million was spent on classified ads last year . . more than for all television spot announcements or radio advertising.

Field Day Will Be Held Aug. 30

Delta County Sportsmen's Club will hold its annual Field Day at the clubhouse on Sunday, Aug. 30. It is the principal occasion in the year when the public is invited for a day of fun, shooting and a chicken barbecue.

Harold Meiers, Field Day director said, "This year we are dedicating the Field Day to the Joe Coplan Memorial in overdue recognition of the great help he gave the club, especially in its formative years."

The club has made many improvements to its layout, the most recent being a new skeet field. To show them off it is inviting the sportsmen of the area to come to the Field Day. Says Director Meiers, "Bring the shotgun along and sharpen up for the hunting seasons ahead on trap and skeet. There will be prizes in all classes so the competition will be among shooters of equal ability."

The chicken dinner will be served from 12 until 2 p.m. and shooting will continue throughout the day.

Meiers coupled his invitation to the public with a reminder that The Delta County Sportsmen's Club is not just a shooting and fishing club. Its prime interests lie in the field of the problems of today's conservation which are everyone's problems: water pollution, improved forest use, stream and lake improvement, pesticide controls, wildlife management and many more. One of its principal means of making its opinions felt is through the Michigan United Conservation Clubs and the National Wildlife Federation. Jim Rouman, a former president of the club is now MUCC Executive Director.

New members and old members rejoining the club on Field Day will receive a free dinner.

On the committee assisting Meirs are Roy Olson, tickets and dinner, Norm Dalke, shooting, Roy Jensen, refreshments and Richard Seibert, grounds.

Fair Is Sparked By Thrill Shows

The sweet sound of country-western music tonight will be followed by the roar of thrill shows on Sunday as the 36th annual U. P. State Fair draws to a close.

Tonight the grandstand show will feature Porter Wagoner, the Wagon Masters, and pretty singer Norma Jean at 8:15 o'clock Wagoner's hits of recent years in the Grand Ol' Opry school of entertainment include "Company's Comin' " and "Satisfied Mind."

This afternoon there was a full program of stock car racing on the track in front of the grandstand; and the Sunday afternoon show will bring the speedsters back again with time trials starting at 1 o'clock and the races at 2:15.

Popular feature of the Fair will be the closing grandstand show Sunday night when Danny Fleenor's Hurricane Hell Drivers will present their thrill show. The show has 28 acts including a criss-cross leap of cars 70 feet through the air.

First four days of the Fair this year were blest with clear to partly cloudy but rather cool weather. Thursday, Governor's and 4-H Day, was warm and sunny and brought out thousands to the grounds for an eventful program and to greet Gov Romney.

Then on Friday skies clouded over and rain began that continued most of the day, dampening enthusiasm but giving Fair officials an opportunity to complete their book work.

This is important to the prompt payment of premiums, which reached record numbers in some departments. A total of about $25,000 in premiums will be distributed by the Fair, plus the wages to employes and purchases made by visitors.

Chamber Urges Area Participation In Bridge Walk

The Michigan Mackinac Bridge Authority is again sponsoring its annual public Bridge Walk at the Mackinac Bridge on Labor Day and inviting local groups to participate. Any interested Escanaba group is asked to contact the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce, which is willing to organize Escanaba area participation.

Labor Day is the only time during the year when pedestrians are permitted to walk across the bridge and thousands come from hundreds of miles to take part in the walk.

The Mackinac Bride Authority suggests that any local group who would like to call attention to a specific event or area come in costume and carry a sign or slogan identifying the event. Groups in old fashioned costumes, 4-H groups, Boy Scouts, etc., are suggested.

Walter G. Lewke, Escanaba Chamber manager, invites interested groups or persons to contact the Chamber for additional information.

Meany Closing Long Campaign

Edward A. Meany

Edward A. Meany, Jr., Republican "hard way" candidate for U. S. Senator, campaigned at the U. P. State Fair on Friday. He was in Saginaw today for a Young Republicans rally.

"Four years of hard work is coming to a close," said Meany. "My station wagon has 132,000 miles on it and I've met over 325,000 people in my quest of the nomination."

Meany was the first one in the race. He announced back in Jan. 1, 1961 and took a leave of absence in August, 1963 and has been working at his campaign 6 days a week ever since. He was with the Eagle-Ottawa Leather Co. at Grand Haven as sales promotion manager until he took the political plunge.

"I've only got 9 working days left, because I don't campaign on Sunday," said Meany.

"The people are very apathetic in this election," said Meany. "The only things they seem concerned with are taxes and the foreign aid program. There's an enormous apathy everywhere, but they are really interested in civil rights.

"As an evidence of this apathy, the Maple Grove School District in Ingham (Lansing) County has a thousand eligible voters and 170 showed up, 89 yes and 81 no, to vote a 10 mill school increase. I'll bet the 800 people who didn't vote will be the loudest complainers when the 10 mills increase shows up on the tax bill.

"I think getting started early in the campaign helped. You can't predict a political race but I think I've got it by a very narrow margin by starting early. I had to overcome the lack of money and the lack of organization and the only way I could do this was by getting out and meeting people.

"It's all coming together and I'm rather encouraged.

"I've been involved in politics for 25 years and I've seen nothing like this election. You have many imponderables. Incumbents are running against incumbents because of the redistricting The farmers will vote more heavily than usually because their grain crops are harvested. A large number of people who usually are on vacation will be home. And a large bloc of people who think they are registered are not. "You can't predict the outcome.

Meany has lost 40 pounds in the campaign. He has been in all of Michigan's 83 counties at least three times in the campaign. He has spent 5 full weeks camapign in the Upper Peninsula and thinks it very worthwhile.

"Gus Scholle is wrong with his one-man, one-vote," said Meany. "The Upper Peninsula has 305,000 people and about 86 per cent are eligible to vote and they usually turn out about 70 per cent of the eligible vote. The old 16th District in Wayne County has 480,000 people with 56 per cent eligible to vote, but normally it turned out about 35 to 40 per cent of the eligible vote. So on a basis of one-man, one vote, I think the U. P. should have had a congressman all by itself. (It's sharing one with 7 counties in the top of the Lower Peninsula under the redistricting.)

Contributions To Chips Welcomed

Bob Olsen, the 11th District Democratic chairman, told Jeff Jurmu, the Delta County Young Republican leader who heads a troupe of GOP eager beavers at the Republican booth at the U. P. State Fair that he was rolling out the Young Democrats Thursday morning to start work at 6 o'clock.

"What's that about?" asked Jeff, wondering if he should be concerned about the opposition stealing a march, or whether his leg was being pulled.

"They're going to do a rain dance," said Olsen.

(It was Governor Romney Day at the fair.)

Carl Hansen of Menominee County, retired Jersey dairy cattle breeder and vice chairman of the board of managers of the U. P. State Fair, says that the managers are considering lower premiums on the bulls to be shown at the fair. "Bulls just aren't as important any more, let's face it," said Hansen.

It isn't that they're being dispensed with, but the artificial insemination technique which has done so much to improve herd quality has taken the bull out of the farm cowbarn and put him in a specialized stud farm from which the semen goes out frozen in little glass vials that can be kept for years.

Slippery Roads Cause Crashes

Gladstone State Police report that the heavy rainfall Friday caused pavements to be slippery and resulted in nine accidents in Delta County. No one was seriously injured in the accidents but considerable damage was done to the vehicles involved.

The first mishap reported was at 9:20 a. m. on US 2, just east of US 41 at Rapid River. A car driven by Michael Kryway, 38, of Ontario, Canada was struck in the rear by a vehicle driven by Robert Anderson, 54, of Oconomoc, Wis.

Kryway had stopped for an oil tanker that had halted ahead of him at a railroad crossing. Anderson following behind applied his brakes and skidded into the rear of the Kryway car. Anderson was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law, too fast for conditions.

Chain Reaction

Six cars received considerable damage in a chain reaction accident at 1:15 p. m. on US 2-41, one and a half miles north of M-35 in Kipling. All six cars were traveling south on US 2-41 when the first three cars, driven by Philip Trudeau, 52, Marquette, Heinz Jentz, 36, Marquette and Gilbert Lukkonen Jr., 16, of Negaunee, stopped for an accident ahead. Merrill Prin, 34, of Ishpeming, was following and was unable to stop and struck the Lukkonen vehicle causing a chain reaction. Another chain reaction was caused when Robert Dow, 32, of Wheeling, Ill., was unable to stop his car in time and struck the Prin car. Michael Gaugh, 17, of Menominee, caused the third chain reaction when he struck the rear of the Dow vehicle.

State Police investigated and ticketed Prin, Dow and Gaugh for following too close.

Rita Dow, 33, was taken to St. Francis Hospital where she is reported in good condition today and Diane Prin, 10, Robert Dow, and Bobby Dow, 9, were treated and released at the hospital.

Five minutes after this accident in almost the same place, two other cars were damaged in an accident. State Police say that Alice Graham, 45, of Alberta, Canada, was traveling south on US 2-41 and stopped for a vehicle in front of her. George Leppanen, 45, of Rte. 1 Rock was traveling behind her and was unable to stop in time and struck the Graham car in the rear. Leppanen was ticketed for following too close.

Walter Wilbee, 51, of Rte. 2 Rapid River, was ticketed by State Police for failure to yield the right of way following a collision at 3:45 p. m. on US 2 at County Road I-19. Wilbee was going west on County Road I-19 and stopped for the stop sign at the intersection of US 2. He told investigating officers he didn't see any cars coming so pulled onto the highway and was struck in the rear by a car driven by Elair Vanlerberghe, 74, of Rte. 1 Gladstone who was traveling west on US 2.

Extensive Damage

Two cars were extensively damaged when they collided at 4:15 p. m. on County Road D-1, one half mile north of County Road 420. Nolan Johnson, 28, of Rte. 1 Gladstone was driving north on County Road D-1 when a car driven by Leon Visnaw, 24, of 801 1st Ave. S., Escanaba, pulled out of a driveway and struck his car. Johnson was taken to St. Francis Hospital for treatment and was released.

Investigating officers ticketed Visnaw for defective brakes and for failure to yield the right of way.

Minor damages resulted at 5:07 p. m. when a semi truck driven by Fred Storch, 56, of Rte. 1 Rapid River, jack-knifed on the slippery pavement. According to State Police, Storch was traveling east on US 2 and attempted to make a left turn to go on US 41 at Rapid River. When he applied his brakes the truck jack-knifed and struck a highway sign. Storch was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law, too fast for conditions and for improper registration plates.

Everett Kilishek, 28, of Negaunee struck a vehicle driven by Cornelia Cotora, 55, of Dearborn at 5:38 p. m. Friday on US 2 in Masonville Township.

State Police report that both cars were traveling east on US 2 when Mrs. Cotora slowed down to make a left turn Kilishek had started to overtake the Cotera car when he noticed she was turning so he applied his brakes and skidded into her car.

Both cars were extensively damaged and Kilishek was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law, too fast for conditions. Kilishek, and his passengers, Gary and William Kilishek and Mrs. Cotora and Carolyn Elliott of Inkster, Mich. all received minor injuries in the mishap.

Gary Tryan, 17, of Rte. 1 Escanaba, was ticketed by State Police for violation of the speed law, too fast for conditions following a mishap at 5:40 p. m. on US 2-41, three miles west of the intersection of Ludington and 23rd St.

Officers say that Tryan was going west on US 2-41 and due to the slippery road, lost control of his car and skidded sideways and struck the left front of a car driven by Edward Becker, 46, of K. I. Sawyer A. F. B. who was headed east.

Tryan and his passenger, Thomas LaCosse, 15, and Helen Becker, 23, received cuts and bruises and were treated by their family physician.

The last accident reported to State Police Friday happened at 8:24 p. m. on US 2-41, one tenth of a mile east of County Road 513. Richard Forslund, 17, of Rte. 1 Ensign, was travelling west on US 2-41 when two vehicles approached from the east. One of the oncoming cars was passing the other and forced Foslund off the roadway causing him to lose control and skid sideways into the ditch. The Forslund car was extensively damaged but he was not injured. No tickets were issued.

Rydholm Makes Bid In 108th

Fred Rydholm

Fred Rydholm, teacher and former mayor of Marquette, has filed Republican petitions for nomination as representative in the new 108th Legislative District which includes parts of northwestern Delta County.

The 108th includes all or parts of Schoolcraft, Alger, Delta, Marquette, and Baraga counties.

Rydholm, 40, who was the Marquette Junior Chamber of Commerce man of the year in 1958, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Eber Rydholm of Lakewood in Chocolay Township. He was born and reared in Marquette and both sides of his family have lived there for more than a century.

He is married to the former June Beltrame of Gwinn, a graduate of Negaunee High School and Northern Michigan University, who is an alumna of the New York School of Social Work at Columbia University. They have two sons.

Rydholm was graduated from Graveraet High School in 1941, served in the Navy four years in World War II and was graduated from Albion College in 1948 and has worked on his master's degree at the University of Michigan and Michigan State University. He has taught school at Republic and Marquette for 15 years.

He was appointed to the Marquette City Commission in 1957 and elected to it for the next three terms. He was mayor two terms. He has worked with the Boy Scouts and served on various fund drives and been a member of the Marquette Community Chest Council and is vice president of the Marquette County Historical Society and ex-president of the Michigan Education Association local chapter.

Rydholm said that if elected he would stop teaching and devote full time to the Legislature.

Father Kills Crying Infant; Gets 6-15 Years

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A Whitmore Lake father who admitted beating his infant son to death was sentenced to 6 to 15 years for manslaughter Friday in Washtenaw County Circuit Court.

Stanley A. Guerin, 25, said he struck his 14-month-old son Steven June 6 in an effort to stop the child from crying.

ISHPEMING (AP) — Norma Cole Stanaway, 72, of Negaunee, was killed when the car in which she was riding and another collided late Friday at a U.S. 41 intersection seven miles west of Ishpeming.

Duck Shooting Season Is Set

LANSING (AP)—A later opening, five more shooting days and the return of canvasbacks and redhead ducks highlight changes in this year's Michigan duck season.

The Conservation Commission set a 40-day season for Oct. 8-Nov. 16 as it acted Friday in the wake of federal duck regulations released in Washington.

The commission said pushing back the opener three days would give Lower Peninsula shooters a better chance at peak duck migrations.

Bag limits of 4 ducks a day and 8 in possession are the same as last year.

A 70-day goose season in the upper and northern lower peninsulas was set for Oct. 1-Dec. 9. The goose combined and possession limit remains at five birds, including two Canada geese.

Canvasbacks and redhead ducks are back on the hunting list after four years of complete protection during which they increased their numbers.

The daily bag of four can include a total of two canvasbacks or redheads.

Starting time on opening days has been moved from noon to sunrise.

Families Busy Housing New 'Scramble' Pigs

ENSIGN — Four families in Ensign were busy making pig pens Thursday evening. The pigs were won in the U. P. State Fair's pig scramble and the children had called home telling their parents they were coming home with their prizes.

The Hjalmer Nelson family had two pigs to house. Mrs. Nelson was busy making the pig pen while Mr. Nelson drove to the fair in his pick-up to get Carolyn and Mark's winning squealers.

Carol Holmlund tackled one of the largest pigs and it won't be long before her pig will be ready for market. Carol had the hardest scramble of any of the young people.

Bob Gibbons, the only winning Ensigner living on a farm, had a place for his pig. Klint Safford was offered $15 for his pig, but he decided he would take his pig home with him. A pen was improvised at the Saffords and a barrel was made for the pig's home. Two bales of hay were purchased from neighbor Glen Lundin for the pig's comfort.

The pigs are all set now and what excitment and fun they made for everyone. There most likely will be more excitment in the households with a pig around.

Antlerless Deer Season Snagged

LANSING (AP) — An antlerless deer hunting season—which got onto the books with a minimum of opposition this year—was snagged today by a temporary lack of legislative approval.

The most extensive "any-season in state history was approved by the Michigan Conservation Commission two weeks ago. And the opposition was the lightest in recent memory.

But the interim Legislative Committeee on Administrative Rules temporarily suspended the season for 11 areas of the state Friday and scheduled a public hearing on the question next Friday.

The committee, headed by Rep. Carroll Newton, R-Charlotte, must rule on administrative rules by state agencies when the legislature is not in session.

The action was taken, Newton said, "because the public had not had adequate notice in the affected areas." The suspension affects areas in Menominee, Muskegon, Ottawa, Van Buren, Kent, Barry, Kalamazoo and Livingston counties.

The regulations will go into effect in other areas of the state next Tuesday Newton said.

The commission at first approved the antlerless deer seasons for all but Menomineee County. It later rescinded its action after Rep. Thomas Sharpe, R-Howell, complained about the regulations in Livingston county.

Sharpe, Newton and Rep. Clifford Perras, R-Nadeau, all complained that they were not informed of the plans beforehand—especially for new areas in the southern Lower Michigan.

The department said it mailed reports on the season to all legislators last week. Perras compiained, however, that the notification did not reach his district in time for anyone to do anything about it.

Conservation officials said they were worried that the delay might nullify the season entirely, because of a legal provision which says the committee must act within 14 days of receiving the rules. They were received by the commission Aug. 11 — making action mandatory by Aug. 25.

Newton said, however, that the committee viewed further action on temporarily suspended rules after the deadline as legally proper.

War Orphan Act Is Liberalized

About 3,300 totally disabled veterans in Michigan were informed this week by the Veterans Administration that the problem of sending their children to college may have been solved by a recently enacted law.

The new law, signed by President Johnson last month, extends benefits of the War Orphans Education Assistance Act to children of living veterans who are totally and permanently disabled from service-connected causes, or were so disabled at the date of death.

Originally the war orphans training program had applied only to children whose veteran parent had died as a result of military service in war time. Later, it was extended to include children of peacetime veterans who died of injuries or illness incurred in line of duty.

Setting The Season

The Michigan Conservation Commission and the Interim Legislative Committee on Administrative Rules of the Michigan Legislature seem to be doing a bit of seesawing on the antlerless deer hunt for the Upper Peninsula after a commission recommendation that all the Upper Peninsula be opened to an antlerless deer hunt.

Some people couldn't be less interested, but it is a matter of great interest to our hunters.

The Upper Peninsula gets special treatment from the Conservation Commission because its hunters are so vocal in their opposition to shooting antlerless deer. This year the commission proposed to issue enough permits to shoot anterless deer to crop off one for each section (square mile).

In the Lower Peninsula, where hunting pressure is much heavier than it is in the Upper Peninsula and where many more deer are shot, it is proposed to crop off 1.2 antlerless deer per section in the farming districts of Region 3 in the southermost Lower Peninsula.

In Region 2 at the top of the Lower Peninsula the plan is to crop 3.5 antlerless deer per section. In some areas of the Lower Peninsula the permits will permit taking of 7 antlerless deer per section and in one 10 antlerless deer. In most the number will be 5 or 6.

So the figure for the U.P. is very conservative.

More should be taken and would be, except for the concession being made to hunter opinion up here. The game biologists say that the U.P. antlerless kill could be doubled without damage to the herd and that if we have a stern winter with our present large herd there will be a heavy loss of deer.

Last year Michigan's deer hunters topped the half million mark for the first time when 516,000 were licensed. The long range outlook for their sport has some shadows across it. The deer range in the Upper Peninsula is deteriorating. There is not enough logging and there's no immediate prospect that this need will be met.

The Conservation Department makes some progress, but very slowly, with its effort to get Michigan to accept a program of deer management which treats all deer alike, because they all affect the range. The public has chosen deer management for the exercise of chivalry and wants the mama deer protected.

This fall's hunt will be the 8th in which Upper Peninsula hunters have shot antlerless deer. The buildup of the herd under this shooting is gradually convincing hunters that the antlerless deer hunts—while they may not provide trophy heads or hatracks—contribute to deer plenty.

Ask The Dentist

By DR. ALFRED E. SEYLER and the Michigan State Dental Association

Q. The coach of our local high school told my son that all high school players will have to wear a special kind of mouth guard this year—made by a dentist.

Why should players need a special mouth guard when most of them already wear helmets with bars across the lower part of their faces? Do you know if this is a new law?

A. The new "law" about mouthguards is really a new regulation. It was passed by the organization of athletic directors of high schools in the United States, and is an effort to prevent broken teeth and jaws in high school athletes. I think it is a good regulation, as do most dentists, because we see the results of dental injuries to our young boys—teeth chipped, broken off at the gum line, knocked out completely, or with the nerve killed by a blow, which eventually will cause abscess and possible loss of the tooth.

It is not required that a dentist make the mouthguard, but when certain types of guards are made, a dentist must take the impression of the boy's teeth, from which a model is made. Most dental societies in Michigan have appointed a committee of dentists to work with school coaches or athletic departments and these committees will supervise the mouthguard program, taking the impressions and teaching lay people within the school how to make the mouthguards. Usually the Dads' Clubs or P.T.A. will be able to make the guards for a cost not to exceed two to three dollars apiece, depending upon the material used.

As a word of caution—don't expect the loose-fitting type of guard, such as may be purchased in an athletic supply store, and the kind worn by boxers, to be satisfactory. They will not protect the teeth and more important—the players won't wear them because they are too loose and uncomfortable.

Mouthguards are necessary even though there are protective bars on players' helmets because the bars do not protect the teeth or the jaws from an upward blow on the chin, only from a blow straight against the face.

I can tell you that if I had a son playing football he would wear a custom fitted mouthguard every time he went on the field, in practice sessions as well as in a game. It's a good investment.

School Reopens At Copper Harbor With One Pupil

COPPER HARBOR (AP)—The old fashioned one room school house may be on its way out, but Copper Harbor is opening its little "white school house" for the first time in some two years.

And young Jimmy Billings will be the only student when he trudges in for his first Kindergarten class Sept. 8.

Copper Harbor is located atop the Keweenaw Peninsula and juts out into Lake Superior. The nearest big school is 30 miles away—too far a distance for Jimmy.

The Copper Harbor school board, used to coping with small student populations, has hired teacher William Ivey to instruct Jimmy in the things a kindergartener should know.

Ivey hopes he has better luck than his predecessor.

Just a little over a year ago the tiny one-room school house shut down when its only student was transferred to Marquette, Mich.

Wilbert Kuoris, the teacher at the time, bade farewell to his student and then reported daily for a four month period to fill out his teacher contract.

It gets lonely being a teacher in an empty classroom.

But Ivey isn't worried. After all if things get dull in kindergarten, Ivey and Jimmy can look out the school house windows and watch passing ships on Lake Superior or view the Canadian shoreline across the vast Great Lake.

It's Harder With Two Wires

Washington Comment

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Mr. X shall be nameless for obvious reasons. He is a Nung tribesman from a North Viet Nam province on the China border.

He speaks Chinese, French, English, Lao, Cambodian, Vietnamese and two North Viet Nam tribal languages.

He looks like a Chinese. He has lived in China. He has 253 followers trained in guerrilla warfare and in security. One of his aides was a major in the Chinese Nationalist Army in China's war against the Communists.

For five years Mr. X fought against the Reds as a Viet Nam officer in the Communist-infested Delta region of the south. His father is a major general in the Vietnamese Army.

X has close connections with several religious sects in North and South Viet Nam.

Once given the go-ahead signal, X and his men are prepared to infiltrate into Cambodia, then drift northward through Laos and slowly work their way to the northern border regions of North Viet Nam.

He estimates it would take several months to reach their working areas.

Once there, X and selected members of his group would pose as Chinese Communists. As "Chinese" they would have a considerable amount of freedom and not be subject to the tight security which makes movement difficult for ordinary North Vietnamese. Some would pose as Chinese merchants. Others would adopt a variety of covers.

Some of X's men would infiltrate certain tribal areas where there is growing dissatisfaction with Ho Chi Minh's Red regime. Others would drift to cities and towns, make contact with unhappy Catholics and other dissatisfied groups.

★ ★ ★

The first mission of the X group would be to exist. Then X and his men would slowly, cautiously build up cells of anti-Communist citizens.

For months, perhaps a year or more, this quiet organizational buildup would be the major function of the X group.

Once they had secured their existence and had built a basic organization of friends, they would begin to collect intelligence.

They would set up way stations and hideoouts for successive groups of agents brought in by air and sea.

When the time was ripe, and the agent apparatus large enough, they would begin to develop sabotage.

They would teach farmers how to hide their rice from the Communist authorities, teach them how much rice they could safely hide.

With enough farmers cooperating, this could significantly slow rice deliveries. In North Viet Nam, where food is already short, poor deliveries could give the authorities fits.

The X group would teach factory workers how to slow down their work and to sabotage machinery without being caught. They would teach city people how to start rumors, set fires, interrupt phone and telegraph communications, blow bridges.

At the proper time, these cells could co-operate with other projected U. S.-South Vietnamese activities in the north.

X says he would have no trouble getting additional volunteers. There are hundreds of thousands of Vietnamese and tribesmen from the north now living in South Viet Nam.

Cigarette Pack Order Delayed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission has agreed to a six-month postponement of its order requiring health warnings on cigarette packages, Chairman Paul Rand Dixon said Friday.

In a letter to Rep. Oren Harris, D-Ark., chairman of the House Commerce Committee, Dixon said the effective date would be July 1, 1965, instead of Jan. 1, 1965.

Harris had requested the postponement.

Dixon said the delay was ordered in deference to the request. He said he hoped the postponement "will facilitate the committee's consideration of appropriate legislation to deal with the vital problem of smoking and health."

The commission ordered the new rule a few months after a government - sponsored committee named by Surgeon-General Luther L. Terry concluded that there was a link between cigarette smoking and cancer and some types of heart ailments.

At the time the new regulations were issues, the FTC said tough new restrictions on cigarette advertising would be put into effect next July 1. That date remains unchanged.

Lucy To Start Radio Feature

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Lucille Ball, who needs another job like a centipede needs another leg, is on the threshold of a new career — radio. Starting on Labor Day, Lucy will preside over a 10-minute week-day program called "Let's Talk with Lucy" on CBS.

Already the star of a popular CBS television series and president of the enormous, multimillion-dollar Desilu productions — which owns the biggest studio complex in Hollywood — Lucy is working on the new project with the enthusiasm of a cub reporter on a first big assignment. She carries a tape recorder wherever she goes, just in case she runs into someone or something interesting. The other day she grabbed an interview with busy Bob Hope as she trottel beside him on a walk between his dressing room and a set.

She has already taped interviews, some two- and three-part sessions with famous friends and colleagues including Bing Crosby, Jack Benny, Danny Kaye, Dean Martin and his wife, and others.

The public, which has long known and loved Lucy Ricardo and Lucy Carmichael, will be meeting a third — the real one, Lucille Ball Morton.

"I've always liked radio," the red-haired comedienne said. "But I'd sort of forgotten what a really important thing it is to so many people. Last spring when I was in Virginia a lot of people asked me why I never was on radio. I said that I was on television—but they said it wasn't the same thing."

The subject of a daily radio show was broached after Garry Moroe (who had a daily radio show on CBS for years) decided on a broadcasting sabbatical.

Gary Morton, Lucy's husband, will join her often on the program, and is, in addition, producing the series.

St. Louis Plant Builds Mercuries

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Ford Motor Co. said Thursday that St. Louis will be the major source of Mercury production during the 1965 model year.

A spokesman at the Ford assembly plant in St. Louis said it produced more than half the firm's 1964 Mercuries and will make even more this year.

The plant formerly produced both Fords and Mercuries but now is entirely devoted to the latter car. The first 1965 model Mercury was put together there this week.

ABOUT SCHOOLING

It's 4:30 a.m., an unusually early rising hour for me. Many thoughts about many things are responsible for the witnessing of a lovely dawn; fortified by instant coffee and a flaming fireplace.

I felt a complusion to make my thoughts public, as they concern the Escanaba Area Public School System.

My husband and I are Soo Hill property owners. We are happy to have "found ourselves" among friendly, helpful people of various religions and nationalities.

We are grateful that our area is included in the Escanaba Area Public School District because of the increased advantages for our children. I'm certain our pride in Soo Hill is the same pride felt by those in Cornell, Wells, Ford River and Escanaba. Pride is good if it does not become a stumbling block in the path of unity. And by unity I mean a strong togetherness of thought concerning the education of all our children, better schools, the best teachers available and sufficient operational funds to adequately maintain good, safe schools.

We must not allow ourselves to think only of our small communities, individually, for school needs. We must work together so that we all benefit, in turn, as funds are available. Funds are only as available as we make them.

Another thought! If we, as parents, discover that a chronic ailment exists in one of our children which requires expensive treatment, we do not spare the cost. We'll mortgage our homes, borrow money to the limit, to aid our child's recovery. We are deeply concerned about the physical needs of our children.

Are we as concerned about their education? Are we as concerned about their future livelihoods? Going much further, are we concerned about the future of our democracy and religious freedom, which are in the hands of our youth? Part of the answer, I believe, is better education.

This means better qualified teachers and an undated school system; This can be accomplished by an increase in millage.

So be affirmative Sept. 1.

Ann Landers
He Who Breaks Window Pays

Dear Ann Landers: This letter is being written by seven baseball players, 11 and 12 years old. We can't afford a lawyer.

This afternoon we were playing ball in a lot behind this big house. I was at bat. The next thing I knew the ball sailed right through a great big plate glass window.

The owner of the house came running out like the place was on fire. We tried to explain it was an accident but the man said we had no business playing there in the first place. Then he took down all our names on a piece of paper.

Nothing has happened so far but we are going to have a meeting about it tomorrow. Do you think I should pay for the window because I was at bat? Is the pitcher partly to blame? Should the whole team pitch in? Or should the man be a real good sport and say, "Forget it, kids, I was young once myself?"

Please give us the best answer you can think of. — JR. CARDINALS

Dear Jr. Cards: I believe it would be very brotherly if the whole team pitched in and bought a new window.

It would be downright bright if you all went to the man and asked if you could earn some money by working on his lawn this summer—in shifts, say two or three at a time. Such a suggestion might jog his memory a little and he may remember that he was young once himself.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann Landers: I am 15, a good student and have never had any serious disagreements with my folks until now. I accepted a date with Tom, even though my folks forbade me to go out with him. (Tom got into trouble with the police last year.)

Last night I lied to my folks and said I was going to my girl friend's house. I had a sneak date with Tom and arranged for him to pick me up at the gas station.

It didn't take long before I realized that Tom's idea of a date wasn't the same as mine. He said he wanted to talk to me about life and things, and headed straight for the woods. I had a terrible time fighting him off, but he finally gave up and took me home. He was so mad he didn't even walk me to the door.

Today Tom called and apologized. He said I was the nicest girl he had ever gone out with and he wants another chance to prove that he can be nice, too. He says I'm the kind of a girl who could make something out of him. Is it worth the chance? —ELEANOR

Dear Eleanor: No. He'll make nothing out of you before you make something out of him.

A girl who lies to her parents about where she is going—and with whom—is begging for trouble, so please stop kidding yourself and calling it a crusade. You are lucky that first date wasn't a fatal disaster. Steer clear of Tom. He's bad news.

★ ★ ★

Dear Ann Landers: My husband never made much of a salary but we managed somehow. A few weeks ago I got tired of looking at threadbare carpets, faded curtains and a worn-out sofa. I went downtown and bought some lovely things on credit. I figured we would pay for it somehow.

Sunday we invited a couple over because we wanted to show off our new things. These folks expect people to rave over every stick of furniture and every ashtray in their own home. If you don't notice something they point it out.

Not one word was said about our new furnishings and I was furious. Will you please tell me why are people so mean? — SMILING ON THE OUTSIDE BUT BURNING ON THE INSIDE

Dear Outside Inside: Did it occur to you that perhaps they didn't notice?

Why are you so interested in impressing people you don't like? What a ridiculous waste of time and money!

Donors' Names Put On Prams

Members of the Gladstone Junior Yacht Club affixed donors name plates to the prams at their regular meeting Thursday evening at the Pram Site.

The meeting was dedicated to recognition of donors of the original pram sail boats which are still in use by the young sailors.

According to Pepper Martin, who has been in charge of the pram program this summer, the late Vincent Johnson was responsible for the origination of the program in 1954. Through his effort 11 prams were purchased for use by the local youngsters and are still providing education and recreation as they did 10 years ago.

The Gladstone Yacht Club purchased two of the prams and Dr. James Dehlin, the Gladstone Lions Club, First National Bank, Grier Ivory, Dr. George Kelly, James T. Jones, Soren Johnson, Frank Stemac and Russel Kent each purchased one. The names of each of these donors were permanently attached to the inside of each pram Thursday evening by the appreciative youngsters.

Women Bowlers Meeting Monday

The annual Gladstone women's opening bowling meeting, originally scheduled for Sept. 8, will be held Monday, Aug. 24, at 7:30 p. m. at the Midway recreation room. The change in date was necessary in order to give teams who need additional bowlers more time to fill their teams.

All teams who are planning to bowl are asked to be present and team captains of all teams are especially urged to attend. Rules and regulations for the coming year will be discussed.

All girls who wish to form a team or to get on a team are invited.

Her elbow length veil was attached to a flowered crown. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and pink roses.

Mary Ann Reubens was maid of honor for her sister. Elizabeth, also a sister of the bride, and Diane Ducheny, a friend of the bride, were bridesmaids. Their flowers were arrangements of pink and white carnations and roses and their accessories were pink.

JoAnn Waeghe, cousin of the bride, wore a white nylon over taffeta dress with pink accessories and carried a white basket with pink roses and carnations for her role as flower girl.

Paul Reubens carried the rings on a white satin pillow for his sister's wedding.

The bridegroom chose Roger Bricco as his best man and Gordon Sirola and Michael Vanlerberg as groosmen.

Inger Will Put Sweden On TV

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Elizabeth Taylor did it for London, Grace Kelly for Monaco, and Sophia Loren will be giving television viewers a tour of Rome Nov. 12.

Now Inger Stevens is joining the lovely traveloguers. She'll show Americans her native Sweden.

The blonde star of "Farmer's Daughter" will take off Sept. 1 for three weeks of shooting in Sweden. The special will appear on ABC Jan. 22.

"My aim is not just a travelogue showing the pretty sights of Sweden," she said. "We'll have some scenery, weather permitting. But most of all I would like to feel the pulse of the country. Iwant to talk with people from all walks of life, to show how they live and what they are thinking about.

"We'll have some famous names, too. I expect to take a stroll with the king; he was kind enough to participate, since this is the kind ofproject that would do Sweden good.

"Birgit Nilsson will take me on a tour of the Opera House. Max von Sydow will be taking me to the theater where he will be rehearsing 'After the Fall.' And I was also lucky that Ingmar Bergman has agreed to an interview; this is the first time he has done anything on television."

The actress has a mother and six brothers and sisters in Sweden and is looking forward to her first trip home in four years. She left Sweden when she was 13 and says the Thomas Wolfe title holds true: "You Can't Go Home Again."

"Some of my happiest memories are of my Swedish childhood — skiing through forests, picking mushrooms in fields, climging green hills," said Inger. "But when I went home four years ago, I found everything had changed. The forests ad been sawed down, and housing developments stood where I had wandered through fields."

Trade-In Pays Less Car Cost

ANN ARBOR —Trade-in allawances account for a smaller part of new automobile purchase prices than they did a decade ago, a report by the Survey Research Center (SRC) of the University of Michigan's Institute for Social Research reveals.

Economists point out that in 1951, some 40 per cent of the reported price of new cars was paid for with a trade-in or sale.

In 1962 the proportion was 28 per cent. This decline did not result from a reduction in the proportion of purchases involving a trade-in or sale, the authors say. In 1962 new car purchases involved a trade-in or sale of another car in 85 per cent of cases.

The share of used car prices accounted for by trade-in or sale has been steady at about 22 per cent in recent years.

Trading in or selling a car when buying an automobile tends to increase in frequency with age and income, the report goes on. Among life cycle groups, trade-ins are least frequent among the young single people and most frequent among older married couples with no children living at home.

Fire can destroy the Bond... but not your savings

All that the owner of this charred U.S. Savings Bond has to do is mail the remains to the Treasury Department, with as much more information as he can give—serial number, and date and place of issue. He'll get a fresh Bond to replace it. No charge.

The Treasury has grown accustomed to providing this sort of service. In the past 20 years it has replaced over 1,300,000 Savings Bonds that have been lost, stolen, burned or mistakenly tossed out with the trash.

Every U.S. Savings Bond sold is registered in the name of its owner, and a microfilm record made. So the government can check when, where, and in whose name a Bond was purchased—even if there isn't a burned crisp to send them.

This assurance against loss is another of the many reasons why Americans now hold over $47 billion in Series E and H Savings Bonds. The money they're saving is providing for their personal security. And it's also helping to build the strength of America at a time when the enemies of freedom are stronger than ever.

U.S. Savings Bonds are a good way to provide for your future. Buy them where you bank or work.

Start Preparing Now For Trek To College

By KAY SHERWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

It's almost time to start down the lists again. No sooner do we file camping lists than school lists rise up to demand attention.

If you have a college-bound youngster, the list of what-to-take is long and explicit. Youngsters who live at home and commute to college daily will have lists, too.

As a rule, all personal possessions should be marked. In the past, this meant sewing on name tapes till you were glassy-eyed. Then iron-on tapes made their debut and proved satisfactory on some items.

But the ease and swiftness of the new marking pens or felt-tipped markers endear them to the last-minute rush artist like myself. You know, if you print the name carefully on a hemline (or the bottom of an ankle sock) it doesn't look too messy and it does last "the life of the garment."

Besides clothes, the coed will want a bright room with pinups, stuffed animals, alma mater pennants and any little kookie fad in high esteem. She'll be guided in part by correspondence from fellow classmates at the school, by department store college boards, by local students.

Ready to help the cause along are some new home furnishings. School-color stripes show up in bedspreads, blankets and towels, nationally distributed. Dormitory roommates can cor-ordinate their room plans by letter before they even meet.

The colors of these varsity stripes are in such combinations as blue and gold, blue and white, red and white, green and white, purple and white, red and gray, gold and black and red and black. Upperclass high-schoolers will probably note the similarity between college and high school class colors.

The bedspreads are rugged and machine-washable; the the matching blankets are in an insulating weave and towels in all sizes are built for hard usage.

The towels can be used for many things besides drying. The bathtowel, a generous size, can be turned into a laundry bag by folding it in half and stitching up the sides and inserting a draw-string.

Towels can also be made into make-up bibs, pillow covers, shifts for study, and cafe curtains with clipon rings.

Storage is in short supply in most dormitory rooms footlockers, under-the-bed storage boxes and the big, woven-willow baskets which are also good-looking should be remembered as inexpensive and capacious storage units.

Inexpensive lively touches also include fancy paper fans or kites from the Orient, travel posters, record jackets, a montage of snapshots of home and friends, prints mounted on heavy cardboard or thin plywood.

Catholic Priests To Use English In Sacraments

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roman Catholic priests in the United States will substitute English for Latin in administering sacraments and sacramentals beginning Sept. 14.

Archbishop John F. Dearden of Detroit, chairman of the U.S. Bishops' Commission of Liturgical Apostolate, annnounced the change Friday.

The change coincides with the opening of the third session of the Vatican Council in Rome where the question of the shift from Latin to English in parts of the Mass will be discussed. Friday's order does not affect the language of the Mass.

Family reunion picnic was planned for today. On their way home the relatives will tour around Lake Superior.

Mrs. Frank McKindles and son, Robert, Hancock, Mrs. Emma Derleth and Mrs. William Dolan of Marquette visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zigmond Shesky Thursday enroute to Green Bay. Christine Bernard of Marquette, a niece of the Sheskys, who accompanied them, will remain for a week's visit.

Follow Directions In Hair Coloring

The last few years have seen a flood of new hair-coloring products, and hand-in-hand came a change in public attitude toward their use, says Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association.

Today, hair color is not just acceptable—it is high fashion, says the magazine article, prepared by a noted dermatologist and a cosmetic chemist, in consultation with the Committee on Cutaneou Health and Cosmetics of the AMA.

This year Americans are expected to spend one hundred million dollars on hair-coloring products. While women are the principal users, many men also use hair color.

Hair color can be modified in one of two ways. The natural pigment of the hair can be bleached, and thereby lightened, or artificial coloring can be applied. Often both operations are carried out to produce the desired effect.

Prime Importance

The importance of reading and observing the directions for using all hair-coloring products cannot be overemphasized. This is especially true of the permanent colors. They are most difficult to remove. Modern hair-coloring products will give excellent results for most users, but only if the instructions are carefully followed.

One of the major causes of dissatisfaction by home users is the mistaken belief that a single application of hair color will produce any desired shade. This is not so. It is quite simple to cover gray hair or to color light hair a darker shade, but it is not yet possible for a single application of any hair coloring to change black or dark brown hair to a pale blond.

Peroxygen compounds, especially hydrogen peroxide, are widely used in bleaching hair. Six per cent hydrogen peroxide solution is the standard strength and is safe, if proper precautions are observed. Stronger concentrations can produce burns and blistering of the scalp. Excessive bleaching can leave the hair harsh, strawlike and brittle.

Largest and most important group of hair dyes are those based on synthetic organic chemicals. These are in three categories—oxidation dyes, semi-permanent dyes and temporary rinses. Oxidation dyes are the most widely used.

Most professional hair coloring or tinting is now done with oxidation dyes, and they also have become popular for home use. They are the only products that color the hair quickly and yet produce all varieties of natural hair shades which are lasting.

Patch Test

The biggest question about oxidation dyes is their hazard. It has been estimated that about one person in 50,000 will have an unpleasant reaction, such as a skin rash, swelling about the eyes, redness and crusting of the face and neck, plus itching and discomfort. The victim while uncomfortable, should be aware that this is not a serious illness and that she will recover.

Included with each package, according to federal regulations, are instructions for performing a patch test before using oxidation dyes, to determine whether there is an allergy. The test should be repeated before each application of the dye. And the dyes should not be used on eyebrows or eyelashes, because of possible danger to the eye.

In addition to the oxidation dyes, there also are semi-permanent dyes, which usually will wash out with one shampoo; acid color rinses, using harmless organic acids; vegetable dyes, principally henna, and metallic dyes, no longer as popular as in the past.

If you decide to change the color of your hair, and if you decide to do it yourself rather than seek a professional job, the important thing to remember is to read the instructions on the label and the package insert, and follow them carefully. These are for your own safety and protection.

A New Breed: 'The Neat Generation'

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The kids will turn the tables on their critics this fall and make 'em eat their words. If you've been among the offenders who insist that high school and college girls dress like beatniks, you're in for a surprise this time around.

The current crop of young people are fashion-conscious and sloppiness in grooming is a thing of the past. Even the pre-teeners have heard of Chanel and her interesting pockets. They approve, too, of braid bindings and important adult fashions such as the A-line, soft shaping, half belts, raglan shoulders, military coats and double-breasted closings. And so the industry has modified these styles to younger figures.

Interest in fashion has been so great among today's back-to-schoolers, that these students are being referred to as the "neat generation."

Classic coats, well-mannered and uncluttered, will be a showcase for this gratifying new trend toward chic.

There are balmacaans, reefers, chesterfields and trench coats.

Collars are small, snug or notched, but they are there. The cardigan neck is rarely seen in the new back-to-school coats being offered for fall.

Fur collars are sensibly detachable so that the coat is more wearable and the fur a welcome companion to other costumes.

Fabrics are smoothed down and flat. Coverts, gabardines, twills and whipchords are favorites.

Colors are deep and clear. Reds in dark carnation, orangey pimento, light French navy and the wood tones—brown to green—lead the coed march. And although checks and plaids are big campus news, they are muted in tone.

These quietly smart fashions are winning ready acceptance from the school set. And there's no doubt that studied sloppiness has bowed out to good grooming and a healthy interest in fashion.

New coach Jerry Pangrazzi of Marquette faces a formidable rebuilding task this fall. He has 41 varsity football candidates with only seven lettermen among them, and only two of those veterans were regulars on the 1963 team that won three, lost four and tied one. The returning regulars are Jerry Perttunen and Dave Beauchaine. Marquette will open the season at Kingsford Sept. 4.

★ ★ ★

Another coach facing a big rebuilding job this fall is Adolph Van Citters of Sault Ste. Marie whose Blue Devils posted a perfect season and captured the Great Lakes Conference championship last fall. Nine of the 11 Soo starters were lost through graduation with only Mike Zimmerman, a 230 pound tackle, and Joe Howie, a 175 pound guard, back in the fold. The biggest hole to fill will be that left by Dennis Porter, who was All-Conference, All-Upper Peninsula and All-State last fall.

★ ★ ★

Ironwood, another team that fashioned a perfect season record last year, also lost heavily through graduation. Coach Wayne Melchiori is seeking replacements for 17 letter winners, most of whom were regulars on last season's Michigan-Wisconsin Conference championship team. Heading the list of returning veterans is halfback Frank Verbos, M-W conference scoring champion and fifth leading scorer in the Upper Peninsula with 80 points last season. Ironwood opens the season with a home stand against Wakefield Sept. 4.

★ ★ ★

At Soo Loretto, Coach Bob McKerroll is looking for a back to replace Jack Spuhler who won the Upper Peninsula scoring championship last fall with 147 points, one of the top totals in U.P. prep history. Spuhler paced the Angels to an undefeated season, the first since the school joined regulation grid ranks after some years in the eight-man brand. Also lost through graduation from the Soo Loretto team were backs Tony Bosbous and Frank Groben, but McKerroll has eight regular linemen back in the fold.

Rain Wrecks U. P. Softball Tourney Plans

Rain washed out all the Upper Peninsula softball tournament action which was slated at three sites Friday night.

At Crystal Falls, Bero Motors of Escanaba is now slated to face Ishpmeing WJPD at 7:30 tonight in Class D action.

At Iron River in Class B, Flat Rock has been rescheduled against Iron River Al & Sal's for 1:30 Sunday. That tournament will be completed next weekend.

At Houghton, where an inch and a half of rain fell in several hours, tourney officials will try to get the Class C tourney going this afternoon. Escanaba Teamsters are slated against Marquette Bancroft and Trenary will meet the Upper Peninsula Power team of Houghton.

Swelling Down

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The swelling around the left elbow of Los Angeles Dodger pitcher Sandy Koufax had subsided somewhat Friday night.

But a doctor said Koufax won't pitch before Monday at the earliest.

Hank, Persol Fight To Draw

NEW YORK (AP) — Johnny Persol and Henry Hank, a couple of pretty fair fighters as fighters go these days, fought to a draw in an exciting 10-rounder Friday night in the last of the weekly television bouts at Madison Square Garden.

Acrowd of 5,219 enjoyed the brisk bout that rang down the New York curtain on the free television fights that have been put on by a razor blade company for 20 straight years. The longest continuous network television show winds up on Dec. 11 in Cleveland.

After the Cleveland program, the Garden will try and run fights about twice a month as a money-making business without the television subsidy.

It will be interesting to see if boxing can bounce back on a boxoffice basis. One test may be the projected return bout at the Garden Oct. 23 between Persol, the fifth ranking light heavyweight contender from New York, and Hank, the unranked veteran from Detroit.

The two judges, Tony Rossi and Tony Castellano, each called it even, five rounds for each. Referee Art Mercante had it for Hank 6-4 rounds. The AP scorecard had Persol in front, 5-4-1. Boxing writers had it 8-7 for Persol with four calling it even.

Dark Takes Gamble One Time Too Often

By The Associated Press

Al Dark pulled the trigger once too often in his gambling game of Russian Roulette.

Dark's slumping San Francisco Giants lost their sixth straight game, 6-5 to St. Louis Friday night, with the help of an intentional walk that put the tying run on base.

The defeat dropped the Giants into third place in the National League, the first time they've been lower than second since the first weeek of the season. They stand one game behind Cincinnati and 8½ back of league-leading Philadelphia.

On four previous occasions this year, Dark daringly violated the generally accepted baseball strategy of NOT putting the winning run on base intentionally. Each time, though, that Dark's pitchers walked the winning run to first base, the Giants ran away with a victory.

But his latest attempt failed miserably. With the Giants leading 5-3 in the ninth inning, Lou Brock at second and two out, Dark pulled the trigger — and Bill White walked to first.

After the walk, Dal Maxvill singled to left field, bringing in Brock and putting White at second. Mike Shannon followed with another single, this one a grounder that second baseman Hal Lanier managed to stop on the outfield grass.

White raced home with the tying run, and Maxvill scampered into third. Lanier, meanwhile, fired the ball to the plate, but he was off balance, and the ball sailed wildly past catcher Tom Haller.

Maxvill dashed home with the winning run.

Elsewhere in the NL, Philadelphia blanked Pittsburgh 2-0, Cincinnati edged Los Angeles 3-2, New York walloped Chicago 7-0 and Houston nipped Milwaukee 3-2.

In the American League, Baltimore defeated Chicago 4-2, Boston drubbed New York 7-0, Detroit knocked off Minnesota 4-1 and Kansas City trimmed Washington 3-2. Rain washed out Los Angeles at Cleveland.

Home runs by Jim Hart and Orlando Cepeda had helped the Giants to their 5-3 lead. Hart connected with one on in a three-run first inning while Cepeda drove his 25th homer in the third. Ken Boyer batted in the Cardinals' first three runs with a double and a single.

Chris Short scattered seven hits, winning his 13th game in 19 decisions as the Phillies posted their fourth straight victory. The league-leaders picked up a run in the second when Alex Johnson singled, took second on a balk by Pirates' pitcher Bob Veale and scored on Tony Taylor's single.

Johnny Callison drove in the other run in the eighth with a single.

The Reds won their fifth straight behind the brilliant relief pitching of Billl McCool. The rookie hurled the last 6 2-3 innings, allowing only one hit, striking out nine and permitting only one Dodger to reach third.

Starter Jim Maloney drove in two Red runs with a second-inning double, then scored the third on a bunt single by Chico Ruiz.

The Mets also won their fifth straight and tied the longest winnning streak in their three-year history. They won five in a row in May, 1963.

Jack Fisher scattered seven hits in going the distance, marking the fifth consecutive complete game for the Mets' pitching staff. No other team in the majors has performed that feat this season.

Tony Cloninger held Houston to one hit through six innings, but the Colts erupted for three runs in the seventh with the help of Gene Oliver's bobble of Carroll Hardy's potential double play ball. Walt Bond scored the tying run on the play, and Bob Aspromonte then scored the winning run as Jerry Grote flied out.

Aching Backs Pace Golfers

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Ken Venturi, golf's comeback candidate of the year, and Bill Collins, struggling to overcome back trouble, shared the second-round lead in the $50,000 American Golf Classic Friday.

Venturi, whose career nearly ended when he suffered a muscle spasm in the back two years ago, shot the best round of the tournament Friday, a 33-33—66 for a 137 total.

Collins, who had a spinal disc removed from his back one year ago and then had to withdraw from the Western Open three weeks ago with more back ailments, shot a 32-35—67.

Mason Rudolph shot a 33-35—68 for a total of 138 and was the only other player to complete 36 holes under par.

Masters champion Arnold Palmer, first round leader with a 68, slumped to a 37-36—73 as he three-putted four greens. That placed Palmer in a tie for fifth, four strokes off the pace and one shot behind Tony Lema, who had a 36-35—71 for a 140 total.

Jack Nicklaus, the year's leading money winner, forged into contention with a 34-35—69 and 142 total. Nicklaus was one of seven who broke par Friday despite having two three-putt greens.

Baltimore Regains Lead From Chisox

By The Associated Press

Brooks Robinson speaks softly and Sam Bowens seldom but they know how to make pitchers' ears ring.

Robinson, Baltimore's American League MVP candidate, started a pair of arguments with Chicago mound stars Friday night and, with rookie Bowens backing him each time, the Orioles hung out the White Sox 4-2 and regained the league lead.

The quiet men cuffed southpaw Juan Pizarro for back-to-back homers in the fourth inning, then broke up a 2-2 tie in the ninth with successive run-scoring singles off knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm. The pair, filling the breach left by Boog Powell's wrist injury, accounted for two-thirds of the Orioles' six-hit attack.

Baltimore, having taken the opener of a four-game set between the flag contenders, owns a half-game margin over the Sox, who had won their last five in a row, including four straight over the fading New York Yankees.

The defending champs lost their fifth straight, a 7-0 humiliation to Boston, and dropped five games off the pace. Detroit rode Don Demeter's slugging to a 4-1 decision over Minnnesota and Kansas City edged Washington 3-2 on Rocky Colavito's two-run homer. The Cleveland-Los Angeles Angels game was rained out.

Philadelphia blanked Pittsburgh 2-0 and held its 7½-game spread in the National League. Cincinnati nipped the Los Angeles Dodgers 3-2, breaking a second-place tie with the San Francisco Giants, who blew a 6-5 verdict to St. Louis and fell 8½ games out.

The New York Mets stretched their winning string to five, equalling the club record, by whipping the Chicago Cubs 7-0 and Houston shaded Milwaukee 3-2.

Robinson, the Orioles' unsung team leader for four seasons, remained on course toward a banner year. The home run was his 21st, two short of his 1962 career high. The tie-breaking single gave him 81 runs batted in and the club lead over Powell, who had 80 when he crashed a wall in Boston Thursday and cracked a bone in his left wrist.

Bowens, who narrowly avoided serious injury a day before Powell was hurt when he caught an Earl Wilson fastball in the jaw, socked his 17th homer and drove in his 50th and 51st runs. Inserted into the regular line-up midway through the season, Sam has been hitting at a .300 clip ever since.

The Orioles managed only one hit off Pizarro, the league's top winner, until the fourth inning homers. The Sox pecked away against Milt Pappas, scoring once in the sixth on a walk, wild pitch and Floyd Robinson's single and chasing the Baltimore starter in the eighth.

Gary Peters, the good hitting pitcher, singled for Pizarro and Don Buford scored him with a two-out triple. Harvey Haddix replaced Pappas, retired all four batters he faced and picked up his fifth victory.

Luis Aparicio triggered the Orioles' winnning rally with a one-out single off Wilhelm and advanced on a walk to Earl Robinson before Brooks Robinson's hit broke the tie and Bowens' single iced it.

Right - hander Bob Heffner tossed a six-hitter at the Yankees and the Red Sox slugged three home runs, including a grand slam by catcher Bob Tillman. Loser Ralph Terry, 5-11, gave up solo homers to Dick Stuart (No. 28) and Ed Bressoud (No. 12). Stan Williams was the victim of Tillman's blast in the eighth.

Demeter drove in three Detroit runs with a single, double and his 16th homer. Gates Brown's 14th homer completed the Tigers' scoring. Dave Wickersham pitched a six-hitter for his 15th victory as Detroit ended the Twins' six-game winning streak.

Colavito's 30th homer capped a three-run KC rally in the fourth inning against left-hander Claude Osteen, who lost his ninth game despite pitching a strong six-hitter. Wayne Causey's triple and a single by Ed Charles preceded Colavito's clout.

Moe Drabowsky relieved A's starter John O'Donoghue in the fifth after John Kennedy's run-producing hit had pulled Washington to within one run and blanked the Senators on two hits the rest of the way. Don Lock hit his 22nd homer for the losers.

Cards' Defense Is Best Offense Against Colts

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis football Cardinals read an old story — "the best offense is a good defense" — loud and clear to the Baltimore Colts Friday night.

St. Louis used a blocked field goal, two intercepted passes and a recovered fumble to set up three touchdowns and a field goal for a 30-21 National Football League exhibition victory over the Colts.

The Cardinals' blasting defense held the Colts to only 147 yards rushing before a packed house of 32,000 home town fans. It was the first home game for the team since the front office decided not to move to Atlanta.

St. Loucis is 2-1 for the exhibition season and the Colts are 1-1-1.

A full weekend schedule is on tap with two afternoon games today, five tonight and two Sunday afternoon.

The New York Giants and the Washington Redskins, each 0-2, clash at Ithaca, N.Y., in the Finger Lakes Bowl today. In the other matinee the Boston Patriots, 0-2, and the New York Jets, 1-1, meet at New Brunswick, N.J.

The defending NFL champions, the Chicago Bears, and the 1962 titleholders, the Green Bay Packers, battle at Milwaukee in the top attraction tonight. The Bears are 2-0 and Green Bay 1-1.

Tonight's other games pit the surprising Minnesota Vikings 2-0 against San Francisco 1-1 at Salt Lake City; Cleveland 1-1 vs. Pittsburgh 0-1 at Akron, Ohio; Dallas, 1-1, vs. Los Angeles 1-1 at Portland, Ore. and the San Diego Chargers 2-0 at Kansas City 2-0 in a battle of two undefeated AFL teams.

On Sunday, Detroit 1-0-1, is at Philadelphia, 1-1, in the NFL and Buffalo, 1-1 at Oakland, 1-1, in the AFL.

Frosty Faces Building Job

MARQUETTE—It will be a largely-untested 64 - player squad which will greet head coach F. L. (Frosty) Ferzacca Monday, August 24, when Northern Michigan University begins its 1964 pre-season football practice.

Among the candidates will be 41 freshmen, the largest crop of first-year players ever to be invited to fall drills, as Ferzacca admittedly faces a major rebuilding job, particularly in the line.

Graduation took 12 lettermen from the 1963 team which compiled a 4-4-1 record against a formidable list of opponents to earn Ferzacca the honor of "Michigan Coach of the Year" among National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) teams.

Thirteen letter-winners are returning this fall, however, headed by the only Marquette player on the team—junior Terry Nyquist, last year's regular quarterback—and senior guard and co-captain Pat Stump of Lansing, selected to the 1963 NAIA Michigan All-Star team.

However, there are gaping holes in the line, especially at the ends and tackles, which Ferzacca has to fill. The Wildcats lost through graduation, three regular ends, including a pair of Little All Americans, Bill Rademacher and Len St. Jean—plus a trio of fine tackles headed by All-NAIA selection Jack Mauro.

Ferzacca, in his eighth season as NMU mentor, will have 16 days of practice to work his team in shape for the 1964 opener Sept. 12 against State College of Iowa at Cedar Falls, Iowa.

Northern's home opener is Sept. 19 against Parsons College of Iowa.

The silver-haired Ferzacca, who is assisted by Pat Naughton and Mike Mileski, has scheduled two-a-day drills until Sept. 7, when the team will limit itself to one drill a day.

The four Upper Peninsula freshmen trying for spots on the squad include a pair of Michigan All-State High School seelctions from Sault Ste. Marie — 227-pound end Dennis Porter and 197-pound halfback John Spuhler.

Demeter Happy For Phillies

DETROIT (AP)—How do you feel when the team you used to play for suddenly looks like its going to win the pennant and go into the World Series?

Detroit outfielder Don Demeter said Friday night he had no feelings about losing out on anything and added that if he were still with the Philadelphia Phillies, they wouldn't be where they are now.

"I feel Jim Bunning has helped that team tremendously," Demeter said. They had the hitters and needed one more good pitcher. He's it and they'll probably go all the way."

"I don't feel bad about not being with the team. I know the players — they're all young —and I feel especially happy for Manager Gene Mauch," Demeter added.

"My job is to try and help this team."

Sweet Revenge For Wickersham As Tigers Win

DETROIT (AP) — None of his other four victories over the Minnnesota Twins this season, nor his 11 previous career triumphs over them, meant as much to Dave Wickersham as Friday night's triumph.

The reason was simple. Wickersham had been shelled out of the box after facing only five batters — and not retiring any of them — the last time he faced the Twins.

"After what they did to me the last time I faced them, I really wanted to beat them tonight," Wickersham said after hurling a six - hitter behind which the Detroit Tigers regained fourth place with a 4-1 victory.

The victory pushed Wickersham's record for the season to 15-8 and left him 12-4 against Minnesota.

Don Demeter, Wickersham's roommate, provided most of the hitting punch as he hit his 16th home run, a single and a double to drive in three runs.

Gates Brown, who said he had not been getting aggressive enough at the plate, clubbed his 14th homer in the second inning.

Demeter's recent surge — he now has 59 runs batted in and has regained second rank on the team—has put him back in the regular lineup.

"He's hitting now like he was in spring training," Manager Charlie Dressen said. "He'll play center field tomorrow and I'll probably put him at first when the other team pitches a lefthander."

The Tigers scored single runs in each of the first three innings and Wickersham kept the Twins at bay until the fifth when he walked Bernie Allen and gave up a run - scoring double to Jerry Kindall.

The Tigers picked up ten hits, with Don Wert the only other player besides Demeter to get more than one. He had a pair of singles in four trips.

Hank Aguirre (2-7) and Jim (Mudcat) Grant (10-9) were scheduled to pitch this afternoon.

Linz Is Fined By Yank Chief

BOSTON (AP) — Yogi Berra hopes for improved New York team spirit after fining Phil Linz for the first open defiance of a Yankee manager since Babe Ruth's 1926 rebellion.

A subdued Linz admitted Friday night he deserved the $200 levy for playing half a dozen notes of "Mary Had a Little Lamb" on the harmonica after Yogi had ordered him to stop.

The incident occurred Thursday night in Chicago while the Yanks were en route to the airport after losing their fourth straight to the White Sox.

Berra announced his disciplinary action after a closed-door session with Linz. He said the player was not surprised and added: "I now consider the incident closed."

The affair did not approach the proportions of Ruth's feud with Manager Miller Huggins when the Babe's "one of us must go" stand drew a $5,000 fine and suspension from owner Jacob Ruppppert.

Linz was on the bench Friday night as the Yankees ran their losing streak to five bowing 7-0 to Boston.

Ralph Houk, New York general manager, had been called by Berra late Thursday night. Houk was in town and consulted with Berra Friday but was not present at the Yogi-Linz confrontation.

"I left the matter entirely in Berra's hands," Houk said. "But I will say I do not approve of harmonica playing on a bus after losing a series like that."

"Whatever I got, I deserved," said a penitent, gum-chewing Linz. "It's all my fault. You should never challenge authority."

"It's just making a mountain out of a mole hill," muttered one Yankee.

But a source close to the club disagreed, saying:

"This could have been all out mutiny if Yogi hadn't stepped in. If a utility man like Linz had gotten away with it, how would Berra handle any regular who stepped out of line?"

Lions Invading Eagles 'Nest'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Detroit Lions will be out to spoil the home debut of the Philadelphia Eagles when the two teams meet in the third exhibition game of the season at Franklin Field Sunday.

The Lions have been involved in two cliff-hangers so far, beating Washington 28-27 on a last-second touchdown and playing a 28-28 tie with the Baltimore Colts last Friday.

The Eagles, in their first year under owner Jerry Wolman and head coach Joe Kuharich, have bowed to the Colts, 28-17, and upset the highly regarded Pittsburgh Steelers, 24-13.

A crowd estimated at about 45,000 is expected to attend the game. Proceeds will go to the Kennedy Memorial Library.

Norm Snead, acquired from the Washington Redskins in one of the six trades involving 15 players made by the Eagles in the off-season, and King Hill have shared the quarterbacking so far.

The Eagles strengthened the center spot by trading for former Green Bay ace Jim Ringo and also got fullback Earl Gros from the same club.

Former Lions who will be out to thwart every Detroit attempt at advancing the ball are defensive tackle Floyd Peters and middle linebacker Dave Lloyd.

Milt Plum, who has exhibited some of the form that had made him one of the NFL's top quarterbacks in the past, will no doubt be getting the starting assignment for the Lions.

Earl Morrall, who took over Plum's job last year as the latter suffered through his worst pro leagu season, has been having trouble getting the Lions started.

Bill Quinland and Carl Brettshneider will not start for the Lions. Both are nursing injuries. Also on the sidelines is defensive halfback Dick (Night Train) Lane who underwent surgery on his knee Friday.

Rookie Bobby Thompson will take over for Lane in the Lions' defensive secondary.

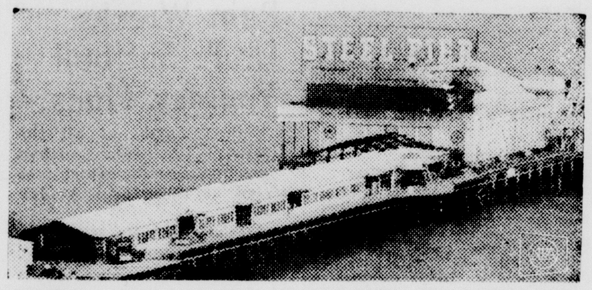
ATLANTIC CITY Democrat's Seaside Site for Coventional Sightseeing

Almost equally famed are the wicker rolling chairs which have carried many generations of sightseers along the boardwalk. This 1939 photo shows a "marvelous" innovation—a built-in radio!

Atlantic City has long been famed for its bathing beauties, even as far back as the turn-of-the-century mermaid at upper left. Today's bathing suits use considerably less fabric. The Bikinied blondie is getting the heave-ho from the officer, not for the brevity of her attire, but because all bathing suits are banned from the Boardwalk.



Another great landmark is the Steel Pier. Convention delegates are offered 16 hours of continuous entertainment, including four theaters, for just one admission fee.

Today, thanks to television, the annual Miss America contest is Atlantic City's most widely known attraction. Started in 1921 as a business-boosting stunt, it brings beauties from every state and territory to vie for the coveted crown.

Kiddies and grown ups alike thrill when the famous diving horse plunges from a 45-foot-high platform into a shallow pool on the Steel Pier. Photo shows Dimah, the first diving horse, in mid-leap.

"Trademark" of Atlantic City is its famous boardwalk, first built, 10 feet wide, in 1870. Rebuilt and enlarged several times, it is now 60 feet wide by 6½ miles long.

Delegates, their families and friends, gathered in Atlantic City, N.J., for the Democratic Convention, find themselves in one of the nation's oldest seaside playgrounds. Development of Atlantic City as a resort for Philadelphia began about 1845. It is located on low, sandy Absecon Island, about six miles off the New Jersey mainland. It is 60 miles southwest of Philadelphia and 120 miles south by west of New York City. The island is about eight miles long and of varying widths up to about a mile. Work-weary folk who flock there for recreation every year number some six million. They find an almost boundless variety of activities during the summer, from a stroll on "the promenade of the nation" as the Boardwalk has been called, to ocean and pool bathing, eating the famous salt water taffy, shopping in the nearly 600 stores that offer "Broadway by the Sea" in the Boardwalk area, to dining, dancing and nightclubbing. During the convention sessions, August 24-28, the city's Convention Hall, which can seat up to 45,000 persons, will contain 5,300 official conventioneers.

Review Sought Of Court Ruling On Districting

LANSING (AP) — A suit was filed Friday in the Michigan Supreme Court asking for review of the court's decision appproving the population - based legislative districting plan.

The surprise action, listing 33 persons including several prominent Republicans as plaintiffs, contends the court's action was "void and of no effect" because it had earlier approved another plan.

The suit asked the court to declare its June 22 approval of the so - called Austin - Kleiner plan, written by Democratic members of the Legislative Apportionment Commission, void for any elections after the Sept. 1 primary and Nov. 3 general elections.

Republican Plan First

This means the action does not seek to halt the impending election of legislators under the Austin-Kleiner districting plan.

It asks further the court remand the plan back to the Legislative Apportionment Commission and order it to adopt another plan complying with the provisions of the State Constitution.

The constitution calls for a Senate based 80 per cent on population and 20 per cent on area, with a House districted roughly according to population.

The basis for the suit is an argument that the court had no right to adopt the Austin-Kleiner "one man, one vote" plan after it had earlier approved a plan written by Republican members of the commission.

The GOP plan complied with the State Constitution's Senate districting formula.

It was adopted by the court May 23 on a 5-3 vote, with two Democratic members of the court joining three Republican justices to create the majority.

No Grounds For Change

The basis for that action was that the state faced an emergency situation in setting up its 1964 election machinery and the court felt it could wait no longer for "guidelines" on the apportionment principle to be laid down by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Democratic justices Otis Smith and Paul Adams reserved the right to change their position in the event the U.S. court spoke — which it did on June 17, holding that population is the only basis for districting of both houses of a two-house legislature.

With this guideline established, the Michigan court June 23 threw out a Republican 80 - 20 plan in favor of a Democratic "one man, one vote" plan.

The suit filed today contends the court had no grounds on which to take this action.

"No subsequent federal decennial census of the state and its political subdivisions was available and no basis then existed under the Michigan Constitution of 1963 or any other applicable law for further action, except the judicial review provided in...the Michigan Constitution, which did not purport to be the basis for the action by the court...," the suit said.

Asian Educator Lauds America

No Castro For Philippines As Schools Triumph

By JEAN WORTH

The American sponsorship of public education in the Philippines has achieved results which will influence the development of freedom in the nations emerging from colonialism, says Conrado Benitz of Manila, a guest in the Upper Peninsula this week.

Benitez, former dean of the law school at the University of the Philippines, is chairman of the board of trustees of the Philippine Women's University at Manila and a long time chairman of the YMCA in the Asian area. He is a guest of G. Harold Earle of Hermansville this week at Blaney Park with Atty. Edward A. Seegers of Chicago. All are members of the University of Chicago Class of 1911.

All were members of the same fraternity and Benitez was captain of the Chicago U swimming and water polo teams. He has put the education and political science he studied at Chicago to great usefulness in the Philippines.

"When America took over the Philippines it started an educational system," said Benitez. "It makes us different from Cuba.

"As I look back on the other former colonies of Spain in So. America and elsewhere, we have something quite different.

Democratic Technique

"The Philippines have a rural Reconstruction Movement started in 1915 which has proved that we can develop a village and make it self-supporting. The plan is being introduced in Columbia and Quatemala in South and Central America and they are sending people to the Philippines this year for training.

"There is a good fellowship among us former colonies of Spain and the Philippines have a special message for the others. We are glad to have the South American colonies come to the Philippines and see that there is no anti-American feeling.

"America and the Philippines initiated something new in colonial relations. No one had conceived of anything like what America did in the Philippines and even after World War I none of the big powers would follow America's lead in their own colonies.

"It took World War II to have Churchill promise the British colonies that after the war there would be a new colonial policy like that of America in the Philippines. It encouraged the colonies to fight for freedom. Only the Philippines had been loyal to the United States; the rest of the colonies hadn't thought it was their quarrel.

Fought America

"After the Philippines revolution (against Spain) in 1896 we fought America in 1899. We were the first Asian colony to fight a revolution. After the peace America established public schools and brought 1,000 U. S. teachers to the Philippines on the US Transport Thomas. It was the first Peace Corps and it was followed by others. It instituted a program of bringing honor scholars to America for schooling.

(Benitez was one of them. He went to Chicago with the 1906 group and attended high school in Chicago and then the University of Chicago.)

"Contrast the effect of establishing public schools with what happened in the other colonies. It was a quiet, slow process. Poor boys could be educated and come up Philipine. President Diosdado Macapagal was a poor boy.

"I have been chairman since 1952 of the Philippine Rural Reconstruction Movement started in 1915. Its objectives to achieve grass roots democracy are:

"1. Livelihood, a fight on the first enemy — poverty.

"2. Health, a fight on disease.

"3. Education, to fight ignorance.

"4. Self help to fight civic inertia and civic indifferences.

Many Apply

"We implement the movement with rural reconstruction workers, college men and women who are trained 6 months to do this work. It is hard work and it is not paid. People need motivation for such work and we tell our youth that we are now an independent nation and must have sacrifices for freedom, the expression of a new form of patriotism to serve the underprivileged.

"We get about 700 graduates applying and we pick 100 of the best of them, chiefly on the point of dedication.

"Women are superior to men in much of this work and the Malaysian culture gives women more importance than does that of the Japanese.

"We are educating the rich to share in order to strengthen democracy and we are succeeding."

Hero's Example

Benitez is extending his visit in the United States a week to address the Evanston Rotary Club next week and to visit Northwestern University and tells its officer of the Philippine debt to the greatest Filipino hero of World War II, Chief Justice Jose Abad Santos, who gave up his life rather than betray his oath of office when the Japanese took Manila.

"He told his son," said Benitez "'Do not cry. It is given to only a few men to give up their lives for their country and I am given that privilege.'"

Benitez came to the U. S. to see the Philippine troupe of folk dancers organized by his daughter, Miss Henela Benitez, vice chairman of the United Nations Commission on the Status of Women, perform at the Lincoln Center in New York.

Muskegon Boy Who Killed Dad Found Insane

MUSKEGON (AP) — A 16-year-old Muskegon boy, charged with first degree murder in the rifle slaying of his father, was found innocent by reason of insanity Friday.

Muskegon County Circuit Court Judge John H. Piercey, ordered Leon R. Rumohr confined to the Ionia State Hospital for the rest of his natural life or until released by due process of law.

The judge said the youth would be held at the county jail here until there is an opening at the state hospital, probably within two weeks.

Leon was tried on the murder charge after juvenile authorities waived jurisdiction in the case.

He was accused of the Jan. 10 rifle slaying of his father, Floyd, 51. Police said the elder Rumohr was shot in the head with a .22 calber rifle in the kitchen of the family home. Officers said the boy also wounded his mother, Marian, 45, but she has since recovered.

At his trial here Friday, Leon sat passively staring into space as his mother sobbingly recounted the events leading up to the shooting.

Anti-Poverty Bill Now Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed into law the $947.5-million anti-poverty bill intended to improve living conditions for millions of Americans.

The ceremony climaxed a long fight for the most important piece of legislation originating in the Johnson administration after the assassination of President John F. Kennedy.

The President gave it highest priority on his 1964 program behind the civil rights and tax-cut bills.

Sponsors said it would supplement the civil rights measure because many of the beneficiaries would be low-income Negro families and jobless Negro youths.

The poverty measure wraps up a bundle of programs designed to give jobs to idle youth, help low-income families get off relief and provide literacy and job training.

Some of these, such as the Youth Conservation Corps, had been pushed in previous sessions but never cleared both branches of Congress.

The new law is an authorization measure. Johnson already has asked Congress to appropriate the $947.5 million in a supplemental money bill.

The authorizations are for fiscal 1965 which ends next June 30. If the program is to continue beyond that date, Congress will have to vote new allotments.

Some sponsors of the measure at the Capitol privately expressed doubts as to how effective it could be in the trial period ahead.

Many Republicans argued it was a politically inspired measure which would make little dent on poverty.

However, Sargent Shriver, who served as assistant to the President in drafting and advocating the program, told Congress it should reach 600,000 persons directly the first year and up to 7 million families through community action projects.

Johnson has announced Shriver will be named director of the Office of Economic Oppportunity, the official title of the program.

Marching Band Starts Practice

The Escanaba Area High School marching band will begin daily rehearsals on Monday, August 24 at 6:30 p.m. at the high school. All members who are signed up for third period concert band must attend these practices or have an excuse from the director. Members unable to attend should call the school on Monday morning.

The marching band will have a busy schedule this fall with parades and half time shows at all home football games and one away game. The marching band will number about 100 members according to director John Chown.

A colored chalk drawing "Head of Christ" by Michael Cockran of Rapid River Route 2 is the Picture of the Day for Sunday at the Fair art department. The fact that the drawing is mounted under glare free glass has been the source of much spectator comment. It is entered in the senior section.

High School Boy Wins Gladiolus Title At Fair

By AMY MOBERG

A beautiful creamy white gladiolus spike, a seedling, unnamed and unknown, won the Grand Championship of the Upper Peninsula State Fair Gladiolus Show.

It was grown by a high school junior, Lloyd Ravet, son of Paul Ravet of Menominee, whose name long has been synonymous with gladiolus growing in Northern Michigan and Wisconsin.

The spike, described by the judge of the show, Dewey Sleezer, who lives near Milwaukee, as "perfect," is in the center of the prize entries of the display, in the main exhibition building, with the attractive trophy awarded by the Upper Peninsula State Fair Board, the Meritorius Award ribbon and various other ribbons, emblematic of championship.

The high quality of entries marks the Gladiolus Show this year, according to Mrs. Robert Jensen, superintendent of the Department, and Mrs. William Johnson, assistant superintendent. Another feature noted by the Department heads is the change in the shades of the flowers from pastels to deep, rich colors.

Reserve championship in the show went to Harvey Carriere of Two Rivers, Wis., who entered an orchid colored "Show Piece."

Section champions are Carriere, Jerry Merchart of Marinette and Berg's Hillside Gardens of Brampton. Junior championship was won by Lloyd Salewsky of Menominee.

The arrangements award went to Mrs. W. J. Dubord of Escanaba, who combined deep golden gladiolus with driftwood, and a trace of greenery.

Fair visitors will have an opportunity to see the Gladiolus Show through today and Sunday, closing day.

Surgeon Gives His Own Blood For Operation

ROYSTON, Ga. (AP) — A white surgeon and his lab technician donated their blood to carry a Negro patient through an operation.

The doctor, William C. Ford, and technician Harry Smith gave their blood when no one else at the hospital could be found with O-positive blood.

Hospital administrator G. M. Davis said the prompt action brought the patient, Mrs. Essie Mae McCurry, through a crisis Wednesday night.

"We tested at least eight people around the hospital, including myself, and could not find anyone with O-positive," Davis said.

The 31-year-old patient had no pulse and needed blood immediately, Davis said, so the surgeon and technician volunteered.

Ford was performing an operation to correct a hemorrhage when the woman went into shock because of the blood she lost.

Davis said the woman went home from the hospital Friday.

Fog Collision Takes 8 Lives

SANFORD, N.C. (AP) —Two cars traveling in heavy predawn fog crashed head on early today, killing eight persons and critically injuring a young boy.

The accident, in a wooded valley on U.S. 1 eight miles south of Sanford, virtually wiped out two families —killing four members of each.

Highway Patrolman J. M. Hardin tentatively identified the victims as Mr. and Mrs. Richard W. Bone of Carrboro, N.C., and two of their three sons, and Mr. and Mrs. Edsel M. Newberry of Laurinburg, N.C., and their daughter and son.

The third Bone boy, about 7, was admitted to a Sanford hospital with multiple injuries. Hardin said the boy, whose name was not available, was unconscious.

Hardin said the front sections of both cars were demolished by the impact.

A heavy fog enveloped most of the area in the early morning hours. Nearby residents said the fog was especially heavy in the low-lying areas, such as that where the accident occurred.

Escanaba Police Report Three Accidents Friday

Escanaba City Police investigated three accidents Friday and ticketed two drivers.

John J. Mattson, 17, of Munising was ticketed for disobeying a stop sign and defective brakes after his car collided with another car driven by George E. Peterson, 47, of 803 S. 17th St.

Mattson was going north on S. 14th St. and failed to stop at the intersection of 5th Ave. S. and struck the Peterson car.

At 6:15 p.m. minor damage resulted when two cars collided on Stephenson Ave. Paul O. Anderson, 17, of Rte. 1 Escanaba was going south on Stephenson Ave. following a car driven by John J. Gardner, 26, of 225 S. 10th St., Escanaba. Anderson failed to observe that Gardner had slowed down to make a turn and struck the Gardner car in the rear. Anderson was ticketed for violation of the basic speed law, too fast for conditions.

Two cars collided at the intersection of Ludington and 23rd Sts., at 2:46 p.m. Louise A. Machus, 67, of Kingsford was going north on 23rd St., and started to turn left onto Ludington St. and didn't see a car driven by Joan E. Ourandik, 18, of Garden, that was headed south through the intersection. The Ourandik car hit the Machus vehicle in the right rear.

There were no tickets issued but considerable damage was done to the Ourandik car.

Briefly Told

Gladstone State Police ticketed the following motorists for traffic violations: Elmer Sanders, 205 S. 17th St., Escanaba, defective brakes; Lee Cooper, Bay View Location, failure to stop for a stop sign; Paul Purdy, Flint, improper overtaking and passing on a marked hill; George Smith, Rte. 1 Rapid River, failure to yield right of way to passing vehicle; and Paul Ault, Rte. 1 Bark River, failure to stop for a stop sign and no valid registration on vehicle.

Considerable damage was done to a car owned by Raymond G. Carrey, of Waunakee, Wis., when the right rear wheel caught fire. Carrey was traveling west on US-2 when he noticed the car pulling to the right. He stopped and found the wheel and tire on fire. PUFF BALL mushrooms are not uncommon in a woodlot on the Martin Witte farm, Bark River Rte. 2, four miles north of Schaffer. These he found Wednesday morning and presented them to Daily Press editorial room staff members for sampling. Epicures claim the puff ball is among the finest of the wild mushrooms. "One year they were so thick they looked like big stones on the ground through the woods," Witte reported. (Daily Press Photo)

Fair's Receipts Up Despite Rain

The 36th annual Upper Peninsula State Fair is ahead of last year's fair in parking lot fees and midway receipts, reports Manager Ray LaPorte and with a weekend break in the weather should top last year's exposition in receipts.

Friday was a disaster at the fair because of the rain. It was the first complete knockout of a day's business in fair history. The fair has often been rained out for the evening or part of the day but hadn't had a KO like yesterday's.

The grandstand show headed by pop singer Conway Twittie was moved indoors to the William Oliver Memorial Auditorium at Escanaba Junior High School, but only about 300 persons followed the show to shelter. All of the grandstand performance except the high pole acts were presented in a stage show lasting an hour and three quarters.

LaPorte counted on the weather to cooperate and permit the Porter Wagoner country and western music show tonight with the Wagonmasters and vocalist Norma Jean and the Danny Fleenor auto thrill show Sunday night. There'll be stock car racing this afternoon and Sunday afteroon.

Friday's rain was on schedule. The fair has averaged a day of rain in Fair Week and had rain on Friday 9 times in the past 10 years, but never as much as yesterday.

Cold weather the first three days of the week hurt the grandstand show attendance and it's behind last year in receipts, but the midway gross is slightly ahead of last year even with the Friday washout.

Brothers Perish In Refrigerator

ISLAND PARK, N.Y. (AP) — An abandoned refrigerator yielded the bodies of two young brothers Friday night.

"As soon as I saw that refrigerator, I got this strange feeling," said Patrolman Robert Halvorsen. The refrigerator was in the family's garage.

George Mayerhofer, 7, and his brother, Joseph, 5, had suffocated. Their bodies were covered with scratches, indicating they fought to get out after the door clicked shut and they realized they were trapped.

Lost Boy Finds Spring Of 'Beer'

BANNING, Calif. (AP) — "I found this little spring where the water tasted just like beer —I drank a lot of it."

Thus spoke Brian Allen Cook, 10, of Riverside, safe at home today after being lost 24 hours on 7,111-foot Black Mountain in the San Jacinto Mountains.

Southern Californians, beset by a summer-long beer strike, are expected to head for the hills in droves this weekend.

Young Cook was found by search helicopters, after becoming separated from a hiking group.

He suffered swollen legs and scratches but his one complaint was that he was hungry — but not thirsty.

Authorities had no explanation for the water tasting like beer.

More Tourism Draws Like Fort Held U.P. Need

Manager Kenneth Dorman of the Upper Michigan Tourist Association has always been impressed with the cash register value of the Upper Peninsula's history, but his enthusiasm for it has some expensive new dimensions these days.

Casing the state of tourist business in the Upper Peninsula this summer — he says its up 4 to 7 per cent over last year — he cites that what Mackinaw City has done can be done in many places in the Upper Peninsula.

What Mackinaw City at the northern tip of the Lower Peninsula has done is to arrange history so that it is a very important site historically. This wasn't commercially important, however, until the restoration of Old Fort Michilimackinac was started. It has been progressing for years and there is now a large, impressive, growing establishment at the southern end of the Mackinac bridge.

The state carferries that took persons and automobiles across the Straits of Mackinac used to be the most important thing in Mackinaw City in a business way, but Fort Michilimackinac is the largest thing today and Dorman says it would be the biggest thing even if the ferries still were running.

"Mackinaw City would be dead today without the fort," says Dorman.

He thinks Menominee should do the same thing, recreate an authentic Indian village (the interstate bridge area was the scene of one of the most famed Indian massacres in U. P. history) or some other such historic installation to make visitors stop.

"We're having a good summer in tourism all over the Upper Peninsula," said Dorman on a visit to the U. P. State Fair. "We have made real inroads into Illinois tourism but it won't show in the Mackinac Bridge statistics. This is one of the best markets in the United States and we're getting increased business from it.

"We must attract 40 per cent of new business each year to hold our tourist volume. The Lower Peninsula gets a lot of repeat business with warm water lakes recreation. We have got to have more museums and other historic attractions of the Greenfield Village type.

"Canada's Stratford Shakespeare Festival lost money for five years and now it's making a mint. Can you imagine what the Marquette & Huron Mt. Railroad steam trains are going to be in a few years? Adults of today remember steam trains like Tin Lizzies, but the kids coming up will think they're the greatest novelty ever."

Dorman said that support of the Upper Michigan Tourist Association still is spotty. "In a few weeks we're going to have a new Upper Peninsula master folder and we want $20,000 increased financial support," he said. "Support hasn't been too enthusiastic, and I'm no pessimist. Many of our tourist business operators think that when there are lots of tourists that God sent them and that when business is poor it's because the Tourist Association failed."

Dorman said that Michigan towns bordering on Wisconsin were losing $2.5 million a year in dining and drinking business because of the Sunday sales of liquor in Wisconsin.

Civil Rights Law Linked To Hospital Funds

pital constructed with Hill-Burton aid may not, on account of race or color, deny hospital admission to patients or hospital staff privileges to physicians and dentists.

Right after the decision was handed down — and before the Supreme Court had made its ruling — Secretary Anthony Celebrezze of the Health, Education and Welfare Department directed that no further "separate but equal" facilities be approved. His department administers the Hill-Burton law.

But, following the Supreme Court's action, the Hill-Burton regulations were further revised — striking out the separate but equal clause, and including the following statement:

"Before a construction application is recommended by a state agency for approval, the state agency shall obtain assurance from the applicant that all portions and services of the entire facility for the construction of which, or in connection with which, aid under the federal act is sought, will be made available without discrimination on account of race, creed or color; and that no professionally qualified person will be discriminated against on account of race, creed or color with respect to the privilege of professional practice in the facility."

Soo Man In Boat Nears Fair After 2000-Mile Row

SAUGERTIES, N. Y. (AP) — Tony Calery the 45-year-old Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., lumberjack who says he can't swim a stroke, maneuvered his leaky rowboat past this Hudson River community Friday on his way to the New York World's Fair.

He said he expects to be at the fair Monday afternoon — some eight days ahead of the 80-day goal he set when he left the Soo for the 2,000-mile row.

World's Fair authorities plan to give Tony a two-day tour of the various exhibits when he arrives. He says he doesn't plan to row home afterward.
